what he can to help by donating to the Red Cross.

Cabrita, an Independent & Free Press carrier, plans to donate his August earnings from his paper route collection, and is urging other carriers to do the same.

"I feel really sorry for all the people that are out of their homes right now, and have not been fed," said Cabrita.

Two Acton girls are also reaching out to the hurricane victims by gathering donations for the Red Cross Hurricane Katrina fund.

Jade Cook, 11, and her friend Kristen Greig, 9, enlisted the help of family members and their sisters to create little red, white and blue ribbons held together with Canadian flag pins, which they will have available for donations.

"My grandma got me the ribbon," said Kristen "And we all got together to cut them and put them together."

The donations will be turned over to the fund. The girls will be in front of Giant Tiger Saturday for a few hours, accepting donations.

To make a donation to the Red Cross Hurricane Katrina appeal call the North Halton branch at 905-875-1459, or visit or mail the donation to the Canadian Red Cross, North Halton Branch, 100 Nipissing Rd., Unit 5, Milton, ON, L9T 5B2, or donate online at www.redcross.ca.

The Salvation Army is also accepting financial assistance for ongoing relief efforts.

A $100 donation to the Salvation Army will feed a family of four for two days, provide two cases of drinking water and other essentials.

Donations can be made at www.salvationarmy.ca or by calling 1-800-SAL-ARMY.
