Silent art auction tomorrow for local Aphasia Centre

The Halton Aphasia Centre is hosting its Second Annual Art Auction in partnership with the Halton Hills Speech Centre and Pictures and Presents tomorrow (Saturday, Nov. 19), 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the Glen Williams Town Hall, 1 Prince St., Glen Williams.

Beautiful artwork by well known artists, such as Ken Kirkby and Toni Onley will be up for the bidding. Wine and refreshments will be served from 1-4 p.m. Bids will close at 4 p.m.

In addition to the Art Auction, there will be a display of artwork by members of the Halton Aphasia Centre and valuable information on aphasia and the centre.

Proceeds from the auction will assist the Halton Aphasia Centre in running its weekly programs in Georgetown and Burlington.

The Halton Aphasia Centre has a 21-year history of helping people with aphasia, a communication disorder usually resulting from a stroke or head injury.

Over 30,000 Ontarians live with the effects of aphasia and face daily frustration and social isolation due to the changes in their ability to communicate. The Halton Aphasia Centre strives to offer a stimulating and supportive day program where people with aphasia learn ways to communicate and participate more fully in their day-to-day lives.
