Dancing at the Bennett

Dancers from Halton Hills School of Dance visited the Bennett Health Care Centre recently to entertain the residents, as well as take part in a few skits. From left, Elizabeth Shelley and Chelsea Allen were among the group who performed.

Georgetown Children's Chorus to share Christmas Joy on Saturday

Georgetown Children's Chorus performs its annual Christmas concert this Saturday, Dec. 3.

The Chorus, directed by A.Dale Wood, will perform, Christmas Joy, at the Georgetown Christian Reformed Church, 11611 Trafalgar Rd., Georgetown at 2 p.m. and again at 7 p.m. About 180 children and teens, ranging in age from 5-18, will be singing choral arrangements of everyone's favourite Christmas songs including a variety of popular and spiritual Christmas music that reflects this joyous occasion.

In its fourteenth season, the Georgetown Children's Chorus Christmas concert is a tradition within the community. The members perform two to three major concerts a year as well as participating in many community events. In May 2005, the Choir traveled to Holland to take part in the 60th anniversary of its liberation.

The Chorus is made up of five different choirs determined by age groups. They will perform a whole range of music, from a cute rendition of Your Wonderful Sleigh performed by the Cherubs (5 and 6 years olds) to a very complex choral arrangement of Yuletide Fantasy sung by the Performance Choir.

Other songs performed include the upbeat jazzy Jingle Bell Swing, and Jazz Gloria performed by the intermediates and Cool Santa by the Juniors.

Tickets are $10 (adults) and $7 (seniors and students), on sale at the door the day of the concert. For more information, call Sharon, 905-877-6841.
