E-Wareness winners

Gail Richardson of Halton Hills Public Library recently presented (from left) Miriam Wielinga, 9, Jason Ellis, 5, and Taylr Cawte, 11, with their gift certificates as winners in Halton Hills Public Library Virtual Treasure Hunt content during E-Wareness Week. Contestants were required to answer five questions using the library's on-line resources, which are large and powerful commercial databases to which the library subscribes, but cannot be found on other popular search engines and directories. Often called "the hidden web," the library used E-Wareness Week to raise awareness of the online tools. The library's online databases are available at www.library.hhpl.on.ca/online_databases.asp and are available without charge. Photo by Ted Brown
