

The Acton Agricultural Society was named Acton Citizens of the Year for its 92-year contribution to this community. Society members Terry Foster, president Dale Hewitt and Frank Hanes will be among those to accept the award at a banquet on Friday, May 12. The Society with more 100 members has, for 92 years, provided the most successful and continuous event in Acton.

Brian James was named as Georgetown Hockey Heritage award winner for his four decades work as hockey volunteer.

Shirley Broostad of Acton received the Seniors Achievement Award from the Province of Ontario. She was recognized for "working tirelessly" on committees serving seniors, children and families.

Our community volunteers
 Hundreds of people— of all ages— donate thousands of hours to community organizations and causes during the year. Below is a sampling of just a few of the people that have made a difference to our community in the past year.

Glenda Benton of Limehouse has been named Georgetown Citizen of the Year for her work with the Georgetown Agricultural Society and Limehouse Presbyterian Church for more than 40 years, Halton Hills Quilters Guild and Women's Insitute— just to name a few organizations that have benefited.

Bert Stewart of Hornby was honoured with the 4-H Ontario Arbor Award for his decades of service to the 4-H organization and for his creation of the Scotiabank Classic— now the prestigious dairy calf show in the world.

Shell Lawr received his 60-year medal for service to the Georgetown Legion. His many non-legion activities in the community were also recognized.

Thank You VOLUNTEERS!

Town of Halton Hills Council and staff would like to express our appreciation to the volunteers of our community. Volunteers are some of our most valued partners, lending their support, leadership skills, dedication and service throughout our town.

Volunteers play a special role in growing community spirit through many community improvement projects, services provided to our residents and supporting the healthy active programs enjoyed by many.

The Town of Halton Hills will celebrate the contributions that our local volunteers bring to the community at the 2006 Volunteer Appreciation Event being held at the Gellert Community Centre on Thursday, June 8th from 7:00 to 9:00 pm. We invite our volunteers to join the festivities as we celebrate their many contributions in bringing quality to our lives and to our community.

Sincerely,

 Mayor Rick Bonnette
