

Take a ride of a lifetime for literacy

Grate Groan-Up Spelling Bee offers rare prize: ride in an Enzo

At Literacy North Halton's Grate Groan-Up Spelling Bee this year audience members will have an opportunity to bid on an experience that will leave them smiling for days.

Aside from the hilarious antics of adults vying for spelling supremacy in the adult spelling bee, there will be a live auction of a drive in a Ferrari Enzo.

This year, the Bee, slated for Thursday May 4 at Halton Hills Banquet Hall, Milton, is proving to be an even bigger success than any other year. A total of 22 teams from North Halton have thrown their hats into the ring and are now practising furiously to win the coveted Bee trophy. Teams from Georgetown and Acton including Town of Halton Hills, Christ the King High School and the Georgetown Rotary Club have already signed on.

While teams of three dressed as their favourite literary characters stand spell-bound on the stage, the audience is invited to bid on some amazing silent auction prizes.

The Ferrari Enzo is by far the most exotic car Ferrari has produced. The winner of this prize will be one of only a handful of people in the world to be a passenger in an Enzo. There are fewer than 400 Enzos in the world. At the wheel of this Enzo will be a professional Ferrari driver and racer—someone with experience to ensure riders get the ride of a lifetime. For Ferrari lovers, this is an opportunity not to be missed.

In keeping with the cause to raise awareness of adult literacy in the towns of Milton, Georgetown and Acton, the Bee's silent auction will also include signed copies of books from Canadian celebrities. David Suzuki, Margaret Atwood and golfer Sandra Post are among those who have endorsed the Bee by signing copies of their favourite books.

The fundraising event begins at 5 p.m. when spellers take to the stage. The audience is invited to play along at their table. Tickets are on sale throughout April at a cost of $30 and include a meal. The Bee has been sold out in advance since in inception three years ago.

Tickets can be purchased by contacting Literacy North Halton's Georgetown office, 905-873-2200, or visiting the agency's website www.literacyinh.org

In Milton, tickets are available at Delacourts on Main Street and Coles Bookstores at the Milton Mall.

Now that the rust is off of your swing, and hopefully the bad habits have been left behind with the melted snow, it might be time to "work" on your game.

A single lesson from a CPGA Professional can get you into a routine, give you some thoughts to work on, and give you a true sense of how, and what, you need to do to improve.

My first focus on teaching is to give a student an idea of what movement(s) need to be eliminated from the swing. Great swings look easy because they are efficient. There are no parts of the body moving that do not NEED to be moving!

Keeping the motion simple, keeping your thoughts simple, and "working" on simplifying the game will help you improve. A CPGA Pro can get you there quickly!

This is my final swing tip, as my family and I are moving west to Banff, Alberta. Thank you to all the North Halton members and staff who have been so supportive to us over the past few years! Cory Gentes, North Halton's new Head Pro will take over these swing tips next week!

Golf Thought of the Week: The inevitable result of any golf lesson is the instant elimination of the one critical unconscious motion that allowed you to compensate for all of your many other errors!
