THE CONSERVATION ZONE
Put A Lid On Your Electricity Bill This Summer

Peter Love
Chief Energy Conservation Officer of Ontario

No Cost Ways To Save Energy

My role as Chief Energy Conservation Officer is to ensure conservation and energy efficiency play a vital role in Ontario's ongoing energy strategy.

It's cheaper to save energy than to make it, and a big part of today's conservation culture involves "no cost" ways to save energy. Imagine the effect if all Ontarians put their minds to saving energy every day using these simple suggestions. I believe it can happen.

Together, let's do it!

Peter Love's "TOP TEN" ways to reduce your electricity use - for free!

1. Only heat (or cool) the rooms you need. Close off vents and doors of unused rooms.
2. Set your air conditioning thermostat to the highest comfortable setting. Use your programmable thermostat to raise the setting when you're regularly out of the house.
3. Pull your drapes and blinds on the south side of the house during the daytime to keep the heat out.
4. Use the right size pan or pot and cover it while cooking. Don't pre-heat your oven except when baking.
5. Microwave ovens use up to 75 per cent less energy than ovens. Try using one whenever possible, especially for one- or two-person meals.
6. For smaller cooking jobs, use smaller appliances, like a kettle or toaster.
7. Did you know that your old fridge in the basement could cost you $150 or more per year just to keep a few cans cold? Maybe it's time to show it the door.
8. Up to 90 per cent of the energy your washing machine uses is to heat the water! Use cold water for the wash cycle instead of warm or hot. New detergents specifically made for cold water are now available.
9. When using your dishwasher, save hot water by skipping the pre-rinse cycle.
10. And the brightest idea of all: turn off lights, computers, televisions, etc. whenever you leave a room or don't need them - even for a few minutes. It's easy to get into the energy-saving habit!

If we all do a little, we can save a lot!

The Conservation Bureau develops and delivers program to help Ontario residents conserve energy and save money. We hope these energy-saving ideas will help you manage your energy use. For more information visit:
