Chamber boss Hue honoured with Prism Award

Profiles International strategic business partner Wendy Hue and her client, Kent Legal, have been honoured with a prestigious award by the International Coach Federation, Greater Toronto Area Chapter.

The elite 2006 Prism Award, which recognizes organizations for "enhanced excellence and business achievement through their commitment to coaching as a leadership strategy," honors companies and their coaches in three categories.

Kent Legal, specializing in recruiting for legal departments and offices, is the sole recipient in the small business category.

Hue, who heads up Partners in Progress, a Halton Hills business and professional coaching firm, was honored for her successful coaching partnership with Kent Legal, led by Keiran Glynn, president, and Susan Bennett, vice president. Hue is a strategic business partner with Profiles International, a world leader in occupational assessments.

Hue is also the current President of the Halton Hills Chamber of Commerce.

Her firm uses and promotes Profiles' assessments for pre-employment, hiring, coaching, performance evaluation and personal development. Kent Legal is one of Hue's many clients
