Farmers' Market
in its 12th year!

The Georgetown Farmers' Market is in its 12th year and growing every season! Some of the vendors, like Andrews Scenic Acres and Allison's Farm Market, have been with us from the very beginning. We run every Saturday morning from the second week in June until Thanksgiving, 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The Market is located in historic downtown Georgetown between Church and James Streets.

The Market hosts a variety of vendors from farmers to crafters and everything is locally grown and produced by the people selling them – which means you can meet the people that grow your fruits and veggies, like apples from Don Lee of Lee's Apple Orchard, delicious peaches from Ron Thiessen's Farm or perfect plums from Sousa's Farm. There is mouth watering meats from Lisa Alonzi of Albion Hills and we even have a certified organic vendor of veggies and meats, Whole Circle Farms.

Don't forget about our crafters too! Mary Bond has her cozy Cuddle Quilts, Naomi Assenhiem makes gorgeous hand made silver jewellery at Opal Wing Creations and new this year we have Melissa Holowaty from PhytoAromatics with her hand made soaps, lotions and all things beauty-rific as well as jewellery from Sylvia of Sylvia's Designs!

We can't leave out all the ooey-goey food vendors too. We have Sylvia's bakery with irresistible pastries and breads, back bacon on a bun care of the Mason's, Saigon Soul Food's tasty Asian creations and Tina's assortment of everything you crave from burgers to bagels.

Enjoy watching the locals socialize, meeting everyone's dogs, and soaking in the sun – last year we didn't have even one rainy day! Look for the Raspberry Festival in late July when we have a Bake-off and other fun contest for the kids plus face painting and more! So come on down, grab a cup o' joe (or tea) and take a stroll through my Saturday morning entertainment. Come for the freshness, stay for the fun!
