Town throws support behind Juno bricks campaign

The Town of Halton Hills has donated $3,050 to the Juno Beach Centre Association, and Halton Region has matched that amount.

The association requested Halton Hills, Halton Region as well as Oakville, Milton and Burlington purchase Memorial Bricks to support the Juno Beach Centre located in Normandy, the site of the Canadian army landing in France on D-Day, June 6, 1945.

The bricks are commemorative engraved plaques listing the name of the veteran who gave their lives during the Second World War, and also includes their rank, decorations, unit, service date and location of service such as "Italian Campaign".

It will be placed on a kiosk walls outside the centre's front entrance.

The Town will donate $50 for each brick on behalf of 61 Georgetown and Acton servicemen who were killed in the Second World War. Halton Region has matched this donation. If approved by their respective councils, Milton will buy 55, Oakville 44 and Burlington 104.

Air Cadets' big night

In a Change of Command ceremony of the 756 Wild Goose Squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Cadets, incoming Commanding Officer (CO) Capt. Lisa Millar signed the documents accepting the command as outgoing CO Major Gary Kramer (left) and overseeing officer Maj. Robert Beck looked on. Capt. Millar is only the third female CO in the history of the squadron to take command of 756 Squadron.

THE CONSERVATION ZONE

EVERY KILOWATTS COUNTS - EVEN AT THE COTTAGE!

Peter Love Chief Energy Conservation Officer of Ontario

My role as Chief Energy Conservation Officer is to ensure that conservation and energy efficiency play a vital role in Ontario's ongoing energy strategy.

"The Conservation Zone" is designed to help you find ways to use energy more wisely, and become part of Ontario's growing conservation culture. We can no longer take electricity for granted. And with hot summer days already here, every saved kilowatt counts as our power generators produce the extra electricity we need to keep Ontario cool. When you take off for cottage country this summer, don't leave energy conservation behind! Many of the energy-saving ideas that have worked around your home will work just as well at the cottage.

Cottage Tips for Using Energy Wisely

- Keeping screens clean and in good repair will allow you to open windows wide to catch those cooling cross-breezes.
- Ceiling fans are also an energy-efficient way to be comfortable on hot days.
- If your cottage has a clothes dryer, save it for colder days and use an outdoor line to get that "fresh air" feel in your clothing.
- Use compact fluorescent lighting (CFL) instead of incandescent lights.
- Purchase "ENERGY STAR" rated equipment and appliances.
- Use solar panels for hot water or electricity, if possible.
- While barbecuing is generally the cooking method of choice at the cottage, the less you use your oven, the more energy you'll save. Use a microwave oven whenever possible.
- Older fridge models can be real kilowatt guzzlers. A new fridge can run on as little as half the electricity of a ten year old unit. But new or old, when it's not in use, unplug it!
- On a rainy day, spend some time caulking and weather-stripping your cottage. It will help to keep cool air in...and insects out.

You can start saving energy at home while you are away with a programmable thermostat that sets back your air conditioning when you leave for the cottage and bumps in back up when you're on the way home. Take advantage of the Conservation Bureau's Cool Savings Rebate program that offers up to a $75 rebate on a contractor-installed programmable thermostat. For more information on this and other rebate programs, call 1-866-670-COOL (2665), or visit www.conservationbureau.on.ca
