Joyce and Geoff Newman
Gallery Suite Owner

Joyce & Geoff Newman, newlyweds just five years together, met in the pool at their condo. The Newman's love condo living – for the past 13 years living at the Sands, they can't imagine looking after maintenance and upkeep of a single family house. Having downsized to condo living, Joyce and Geoff understand the advantages of a maintenance free lifestyle.

"We're looking ahead – we know that our condo can't provide for our future needs. Our current condo is lovely but does not have certain features found at The Gallery, such as the generous size bathrooms, walk-in showers, and comfort height toilets. Hopefully our genes are in our favour as both Geoff and my parents are going strong – we think this smart design will only enhance our 'retirement years'. We were one of the first to sign up, with limited options in Georgetown, we knew we wanted a new condo, with the Bennett Centre as sponsor, this was a winning combination". says Joyce.

Joyce loves the idea of walking trails "I go ... I'm on the go all the time" with 3 grandchildren under the age of 5 – I try and give my daughter some down time. Geoff is still working, an electrician by trade. He's looking forward to volunteering for habitat for humanity, and working as a 'handy man' at The Gallery. Geoff is also President of Norval Bowling League, and looks forward to hosting parties in the common area. The Guest suite will come in handy for relatives as all Joyce's sisters and brothers live in the States. Joyce and Geoff plan to join the Gellert Centre to continue their swimming and look forward to the fitness centre at The Gallery to keep active. Avid readers, they are saving books to donate to the library and looking forward to getting involved with social programs. Most of all the Newmans look forward to the construction start – scheduled later next month. "We can hardly wait!" exclaims Joyce.

Carpet Barn puts out the welcome mat to find a cure for breast cancer

Carpet Barn Carpet One in Georgetown will continue to raise funds to fight breast cancer this October during Breast Cancer Awareness Month.

During the third year of the Carpet One Welcomes Your Support campaign, Carpet One Floor and Home stores throughout North America, including the Georgetown store at 26 Guelph St., will introduce a new fall collection of specially designed pink ribbon welcome mats to raise funds for breast cancer awareness and research.

A total of 25 per cent of sales will go to Canadian Cancer Society funded research and breast cancer support and information programs.

During past campaigns the stores have raised nearly $400,000 US for the cause. As well, each store has been spreading the word about breast cancer prevention through Carpet One Floor & Home's informational brochures.

"We are proud to be part of such a successful national fundraising effort," said Jamie Watt of Carpet Barn Carpet One in Georgetown. "This cause is important to our consumers, employees, families and friends. Carpet Barn Carpet One has always been a socially responsible business and we are happy to continue to support our local Canadian Cancer Society in their fight against breast cancer."

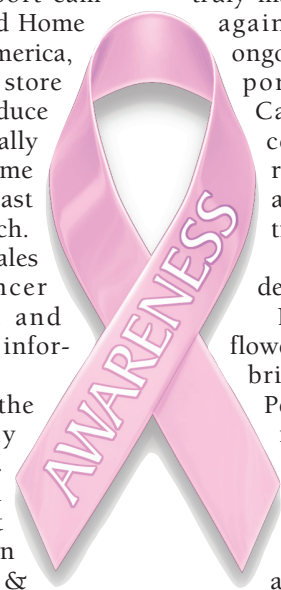

"We are so grateful for the efforts and generosity of Carpet One Floor and Home and their customers over the last three years," said Barbara Whyllie, CEO, Canadian Cancer Society. "Research is truly making a difference in the fight against breast cancer. With the ongoing efforts of committed supporters across Canada, the Canadian Cancer Society will continue to support excellent research and educate women about screening and early detection."

The fall collection of mat designs include:

Flower Power featuring fall flowers, Fall Foliage inspired by the brilliant colours of fall foliage, Pets Only, Autumn Harvest with fall-toned flowers, Four Seasons designed for nature lovers, Antique Blooms featuring burgundy blooming flowers paired with rich taupes and neutral tones and Reflections which emulates the look of a stained glass window framing two daffodils.

The mats are durable, stain and water resistant and machine-washable. They are available at Carpet Barn Carpet One stores beginning in October through November and December for $34.99, 25 per cent of the sale of each mat goes to local Canadian Cancer Society efforts.
