MEET... Terry Antoniewicz

Art and particularly beautiful writing have been my passion for over 40 years. I have enjoyed teaching throughout North America, creating commissioned pieces for the Queen of England, and writing religious text, historical documents and family heirlooms. Let me help with that milestone event and present a gift of custom calligraphy that will be a conversation piece long afterwards. My new studio is the perfect environment to share my passion, offering workshops where youths to adults can experience the joy of creating their own piece of unique art suitable for display.

MEET... Sandra Brianceau

Since the start of my real estate career I knew this was my calling. Customer satisfaction has always been a priority to me. The combination of my technical, business, service and negotiating skills made this the obvious career choice in 2003 and I haven't looked back. As a resident of Erin for most of my life I enjoy moving families throughout the Halton Hills/Erin corridor. I also believe in the importance of giving back to the community that supports me. As a mother of two I know how valuable this community is for families so selling it is the easy part!
