

Great News!

Repeat customers (many of whom have become good friends) told me portions of my last ad were ummmm.....crappy. Well intentioned, straight forward but never really completing any of my thoughts. Kinda like a whole page worth of dangling participles. Duly noted.

Moving on, please take a look at the accompanying photo. These scientists are drilling for core samples to ensure my property isn't full of quicksand thus unable to support the new building being constructed. Truthfully, I was kind of hoping for a Jed Clampett moment. Striking oil now would be timely negating the huge loan I need. Heck at home I already have a Jethro (Dylan, the human eating machine), Ellie May (Lillian and her series of critters) and a younger version of Granny (ouch, that'll cost me).

Projected completion is summer 2007. The current building will house an expanded state-of-the-art Parts and Service facility featuring "Drive Through" lanes with dedicated quick-lube bay and complimentary car wash. Folks, this has been a long time coming. I'm really really looking forward to it. Hopefully, we can pay it off without my wife and kids using Dad's death benefits to clear the mortgage.

Finally, Daimler Chrysler has introduced, a very timely, great new promotion. 3 for Free.

Here's an example of how it differs from other three months no payment programs you've seen at this time of year. 3 months no payments usually meant someone taking a 48 month term and rolling it into 45 payments. So if your loan including interest was for $22,000 you would make 45 payments of $489.00 starting 3 months from now instead of 48 payments of $458.00 starting immediately.

Our program using the same loan amounts suggests your payments only start in 3 months but at the lower $458.00 instead of $489.00! Chrysler is truly paying your first three months for you.

Alternatively, let's say you have an abundance of cash lying around that you previously had earmarked for an income trust investment, you can pay cash and receive a further comparable reduction on your purchase price. You choose. Good idea eh? Incidentally I'm working on those scientists above to replace that beater with an nice new Dodge Ram.

See you soon,
