WATCH FOR NEXT YEAR'S EVENT!

Library can offer tips to find a new future

Just last month, mandatory retirement officially ended in Ontario. This means that now more than ever, people can retire from their careers at many different ages. Such a wide variety of ages can translate into a wide variety of interests. We at the Halton Hills Public Library can help you start to discover your interests and embark on a truly active and fulfilling retirement. Here are few ideas:

Travel can be a fantastic opportunity and the library can help. Choose where you would like to go by watching a travel DVD; borrow a guide book to help plan your sightseeing or to find a place to stay; borrow a language CD to help you speak with the locals; or take along some audio-books to keep you amused on the long trip south.

Retirement can be a chance to take up that hobby you have always wanted to try, but have never had the time. Borrow a how-to book or DVD to learn woodworking, hone your cooking skills or become a wine connoisseur. Unravel the mystery of your new digital camera, or discover VoIP (voice over internet protocol) so that you can not only chat with the grandkids but also see how much they have grown.

Retirement can be a wonderful time to relax. Come explore our music CD collection for some soothing tunes or party favourites. Catch up on the latest newspapers and magazines in our periodicals section. Take time out for a good book or take in an evening of movies on DVD.

Less time at the office sometimes mean it is harder to keep up with the latest news. Our online databases contain articles from hundreds of magazines and newspapers. Search the latest in health information or stock markets strategies from the library or from your computer at home.

Retiring from one career can be a great time to embark on another. The library has all sorts of resources for helping you start a small business.

So if retirement has left you with a little extra time on your hands, why not visit your local public library, visit our website, or give us a call at 905-873-2681 (Georgetown) or 519-853-0301 (Acton). We'd be happy to help you explore then many resources we have available.

Family Storytime sessions begin this week

Halton Hills Public Library invites you to Family Storytime. This is a fun drop-in program for adults and young children to enjoy together. The program is 30 minutes long, with stories, music and lots of fun. No registration required—just drop in.

At the Georgetown branch, Storytime is held on Wednesdays at 9:45 a.m., January 10 to February 14, and Saturdays at 11 a.m., January 13 to February 17.

If you can't get to the library, Family Storytime is also offered at the Acton Community Centre on Wednesdays at 2 p.m., January 10 to February 14, and at the Gellert Community Centre on Fridays at 10 a.m., January 12 to February 16.

Please call 905-873-2681 ext. 2520 or 519-853-0301 or visit www.library.hhpl.on.ca for more information.

A SERIOUS QUESTION OF SAFETY

RURAL MAILBOX TRAFFIC SAFETY STUDIES IN GEORGETOWN

Increased traffic volumes are making delivering mail to some rural mailboxes potentially hazardous for mail carriers and for other drivers. Like all Canadian companies, Canada Post has a legal responsibility to ensure that its operations do not place its employees or the public at risk. For this reason, Canada Post is assessing the safety of rural mailboxes in Georgetown. Canada Post will contact you if your mailbox is going to be assessed. Canada Post's priority is to maintain rural mailbox delivery. If the assessment finds that your mailbox is a potential hazard, Canada Post will advise you in person if it can be relocated for safer delivery. If this is not possible, Canada Post will offer other local delivery options. For more information, contact our dedicated information line or visit online.
