Getting your pool in tip-top shape

These days everyone is looking for a little bit more time to relax. Pool owners especially— after all we got the pool so we'd have an enjoyable place to hang out with the kids, and visit with friends. Who doesn't love a pool party?

For those of us who don't necessarily want to make a hobby of pool care, there are several ways to take the hassle out of keeping the pool in perfect shape.

First, and most obviously is to check your water chemistry regularly. That way little imbalances never turn into a green pool. Test weekly at home, and take a sample in to your local pool dealer at least once a month.

There's also many great ways to make caring for your pool easier.

Automatic pool vacuums do the work of cleaning for you. Monthly, or even seasonal kits, with pre-measured weekly doses of sanitizer can cut your pool care time down to as little as 15 minutes a week. Automatic chemical feeders can be stocked with pucks and once installed, deliver a consistent dose of either chlorine or bromine.

Arguably the most popular new advance in pool care technology are salt chlorine generators which make a continual metered dose of chlorine for your pool. Pools with a salt system have softer water, and are easier on skin and eyes. Also, because of the constant flow of sanitizer, they stay clearer and cleaner than other pools.

So, with summer on the way, and the weather warming up, it's a great time to start planning for fun around the pool. Why not plan to make your pool care easier at the same time.
