

Police find $1.5 million grow operation in Norval

The occupants of a Norval home are facing drug charges after Halton Regional Police seized 1,450 marijuana plants with an estimated street value of $1.5 million from the home's basement last Thursday.

Police searched the 5 Green St. home after an illegal electrical bypass into the home was discovered.

The search revealed a substantial marijuana grow operation in the basement using an illegal electrical bypass to power several thousand dollars' worth of advanced hydroponics equipment.

Charged with theft of electricity and adult occupant injuring building, possession for the purpose of trafficking and produce a controlled substance are Evelyn Au, 36, of Mississauga, Cam Hong Phung, 40, of Brampton and Duc Sai Luong, 40, of Brampton.

Anyone with information about suspected grow operations is asked to contact Detective Anthony Odoardi of Halton's Drug and Morality Bureau at 905-878-5511 ext. 5245 or Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477).
