

Hill won't face Jays this weekend

Injured Washington Nationals' pitcher Shawn Hill of Georgetown plans to be back on the mound shortly but it won't come in time for this weekend's three-game series in Toronto against the Blue Jays at the Rogers Centre.

The 26-year-old righthanded starter was enjoying an excellent season with the last-place Nationals before soreness in his left shoulder and right elbow forced him to leave a game on May 11 against Florida in the midst of a no-hitter and he was then placed on the disabled list.

Hill had a 3-3 record with a

2.70 earned-run average in 50 innings of work, giving up just two homers and 16 walks. He hurt his left shoulder while running the bases in April and it began to affect his throwing motion, while his reconstructed right elbow was checked by a couple of specialists who didn't find any structural damage.

Hill said he'll rest and won't return until he's pain-free, which could happen by the end of the month, and was slated to begin throwing lightly this week.

"There still soreness in the shoulder, but it's much better. The range of motion and throwing motion is there, so I'm not worried about that," Hill said on the Nationals' website. "I have to strengthen it, but it will be fine for throwing."

The Montreal Expo draftee will travel with the Nationals to Toronto and has scheduled a couple of appearances in Georgetown on Friday morning.

Some tickets still available for June 21 Museum gala

Only a few tickets remain for the Halton Hills Sports Museum's inaugural induction ceremony next Thursday as the first six names will be welcomed into the newly established hall of fame and resource centre, which is located in the upstairs meeting room of the Mold-Masters SportsPlex.

The induction gala ceremony will take place Thursday, June 21 from 7-9 p.m. at the John Elliott Theatre. A reception will precede the event beginning at 6 p.m.

Tickets are $30 each and can be purchased at the John Elliott Theatre or by calling Glenda Nixdorf at 905-873-1360.
