Water Wise Halton Smart Watering

When to water? What number is your home?

Halton Region's Water Use By-law (By-law 42-04) promotes water conservation by outlining all permitted usage of water for businesses and residents. If your address number ends in an odd number, your watering days are calendar days that also end in odd numbers. If your address number ends in an even number, your watering days are calendar days that also end in even numbers.

Smart watering through the use of rain gauges

With a rain gauge you can not only monitor the amount of water your lawn receives naturally each week, but you can also use this device to accurately water your lawn.

How to use a rain gauge:

1. Place your rain gauge in an open area away from buildings and trees.
2. Monitor the amount of water you receive on a daily basis throughout the week.
3. At the end of a one week period, add the additional amount of water to your lawn needed to make up the 2.5cm (1 inch) requirement. Remember 2.5 cm (1 inch) of water a week is all the water that is needed to ensure a healthy deep routed lawn.

Contact Halton Region for your free of charge rain gauge and start watering smart today!

Did you know that your lawn only requires 2.5cm (1 inch) of water a week including rainfall?

Here are some more water efficient tips to consider:

- Limit the amount of water lost through evaporation by watering your lawn in the early morning.
- Set your mower height to 6 – 8 cm (2 1/2 - 3"). This will provide shade to the root base and reduce the amount of moisture lost due to evaporation.
- Try dressing your garden and flower beds with mulch. Mulch can work to keep soil cool and shaded thus limiting the amount of moisture lost due to evaporation.
- Position your sprinkler to only water desired areas.
- Use Smart Timers with your sprinkler system to make sure you are not watering when it is raining.
