HOW DOES LOUD NOISE CREATE HYPERTENSION?

It appears to affect the nervous system, signalling the peripheral blood vessels to constrict as though under attack! This triggers a surge of adrenaline and other fight-or-flight chemicals into the bloodstream - a response that carries with it the potential for glandular or cardiovascular changes, in other words, unwanted noise creates the same final results as increased stress (try to avoid!).

Town of Halton Hills staff will host three Public Information Centres regarding the Town's Comprehensive Zoning By-law review project, one in Georgetown, one in Acton and one in the rural area, as indicated above. The overall purpose of the Zoning By-law review process is to prepare a new Town-wide Zoning By-law that is in conformity with relevant Provincial Plans and policies, the Regional Official Plan and the Halton Hills Official Plan. This new by-law is intended to replace By-law No. 1358 (Acton), By-law No. 74-51 (Esquesing) and By-law 57-91 (Georgetown).

The Public Information Centres will provide an initial opportunity for public consultation on the nine Technical papers prepared as part of Phase 1 of the Comprehensive Zoning By-law review. The overall objective of the information centres is to:

- Increase public awareness of the Comprehensive Zoning By-law review project;
- Provide a status update on the project;
- Invite initial public input on the Technical Papers and the new Zoning By-law; and
- Educate the public on the planning process and the importance of a Zoning by-law.

The Public Information Centres will take the format of open houses and will provide an opportunity for all attending citizens to ask questions of Town staff and/or the project consultant, and provide feedback on the project. While there will be no presentation at the Public Information Centres, display boards summarizing the Zoning By-law process, and showing existing zoning and new Official Plan designations will be available for viewing.

All interested citizens are welcome and encouraged to attend the Public Information Centres.
