

Mayor Rick Bonnette's Green Plan Task Force

In order to keep the momentum going, the Town will be looking to a staff person to head the "office of sustainability" to follow through and implement the plan. Also the Town Environment Advisory Committee will play an important role in recommendations to the Town Green Plan.

Suggestions to businesses of Halton would be to take a look at what you're already doing and see where you might go a little farther. You probably already have a blue box and recycle paper, cans and bottles. In addition, businesses can look at phasing out the use of plastic bags by offering recycling facilities for bags and providing sturdy, reusable ones. Businesses could also take a look at posting signs discouraging idling in pick up/drop off areas. If you haven't already participated in the 'porch light' program, you could replace incandescent lights with compact fluorescents. Wherever possible, retailers can reduce packaging and restaurants could refrain from using Styrofoam cups.

The Green Plan has been widely distributed to all levels of government and to environmental groups such as the David Suzuki Foundation. Mayor Bonnette welcomes you to pick up your copy of the Green Plan at the town offices, the library, Gellert Center, or read it online at haltonhills.ca/greenplan.
