

Focusing on "Business of the Month"

Every month, Chamber members and local residents have the opportunity to nominate a local business for the Chamber's Business of the Month award. The criteria for selection are: quality of service, unique products, and/or civic involvement which benefits the community. Companies are selected regardless of Chamber membership, and the Chamber presents each of the recipients with a plaque.

By Wendy Hue and Cor Baarda

The recipients for this quarter are:
Halton Hills Sewing Machine & Vacuum Services (October),
Pat's Prime Cuts & Deli (November),

Tony and Heike Ciuffo started this business in June 1991. Tony has been involved with sewing machines and vacuums since 1971 starting out with Singer and going private in 1975. The two owners have a lot of knowledge and they insist on using that knowledge to benefit their customers. Their main focus is to ensure that each customer is fully satisfied with the product or service delivered and is ready to come back again and again. Their follow-up service is outstanding and often exceeds the warranty requirements. They recognize that a repeat customer is a necessity, not a luxury! They will even service other people's mistakes when asked to do so. Tony and Heike find that their customers become friends and they both like it that way. As you listen to Tony, you realize that he loves sewing machines and that they have been good to him. Their dedication has earned them supplier awards that have allowed them to travel the globe. It really does matter that you love what you do! Congratulations to you both!

Pat's Prime Cuts and Deli is sure to attract discriminating eaters who enjoy great food. Owned and operated by Pat Commisso, the store is bright and cheery, with everything looking both very appetizing and appealing. Pat learned his trade in his family's grocery stores and is putting what he has learned to very good use - he still doesn't hesitate to call his father Joe if the need arises. Naturally, the primary focus is meat - the best in quality and great variety. His next focus is the deli - Pat prepares and cooks his own meats for use in the deli on the premises; he had a nice porchetta going in the oven while I was

The specialty deli meats and condiments are acquired from best producers because Pat wants to ensure his customers get the best. He is making Georgetown his home and he would love to serve the whole town because he loves making people happy. His customers come first; they should leave his store pleased. His motto is "my reputation is at stake" and he's living up to it. Congratulations on a well deserved award!

Owners:

Carmine Maiorano and Agostino Maiorano
Carmine and Agostino, long time residents of Georgetown had been wishing for a European Bakery/ Deli for years. After wishing for it for too long they decided to just do it themselves.

La Vita was established in March 2003 and opened in August of the same year.

At first they used traditional recipes from Mama Mairorano's collection and then by listening to feedback from customers adjusted according to the tastes of Georgetown's residents.

La vita means "life" in Italian. Carmine states: "Our mission is to provide our customers with the finest quality catering services, breads, baked goods, pastries, cakes, deli meats, cheeses, coffees, frozen gourmet meals, hot prepared foods, freshly made deli sandwiches and the finest brewed and specialty coffees every day".

"Our staff of 10 is always there to serve you or to prepare catered services for your special event".

Drop in for a visit to add more taste to your "Vita" and experience a slice of "Vita" from the old country. A European tradition right in town.
