Writing workshop to focus on children and teen genre

The West Side Writers and The Brampton Writers Guild host Writing for Children and Young People, a workshop for grown-ups on Saturday, February 2 in Glen Williams Town Hall.

The workshop will be held 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Glen Williams Town Hall, 1 Prince St. To register (in advance preferably) e-mail: brianhenry@sympatico.ca or phone Diana Revelins, 905-823-6637.

Whether you want to write the next best-selling children's books or just want to create stories for your own kids, this workshop is for you. Learn how to write stories kids and adolescents will love, and find out what you need to know to sell your children's book.

Special option: Bring a sample of your children's writing (up to about 1,000 words) and get critiqued on the spot. If you're not currently working on a children's story, don't worry, this workshop will get you started.

Workshop leader Brian Henry has been an editor for 25 years. He teaches creative writing at Ryerson University and George Brown College and is the author of a children's version of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde (Tribute Publishing Inc.)
