

MacDonald off to U.S. school

MacDonald, whose dad Steve played Jr. A hockey with Newmarket and North York, while uncle Greg was Paul Coffey's defence partner with the Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds, showed his fearless side in last summer's OLA playdowns against Orangeville and Whitby. He suffered a non-displaced fracture of his wrist but refused to have a cast put on as not to show the opposition any vulnerability, piecing together his own padded brace that allowed him to have protection and more flexibility.

This week, MacDonald accepted a scholarship from Trinity-Pawling in New York.

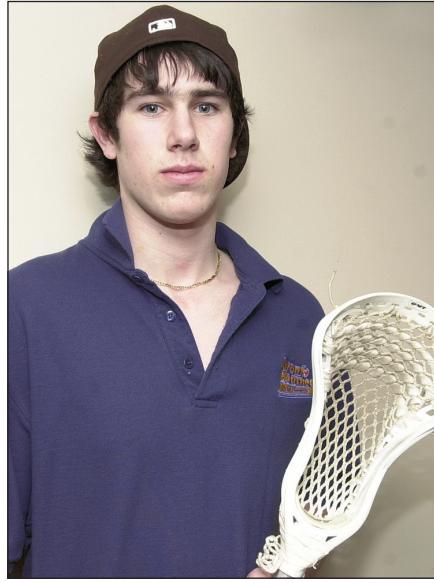

"I plan to re-do Grade 11 next year so I'll have a fifth year of high school," he added. "The next goal is to make it on the Beaches' team and I don't think that'll be a problem."

Another player from last year's Halton Hills' midgets, Matt Lord of Caledon, was taken by Peterborough in the second and final round of the OLA Jr. A draft. Twenty-four players were drafted in total.

Beware of Bulldogs

Training camp starts this Saturday for the Halton Hills Jr. B Bulldogs and they've got a couple of pre-season tournaments on tap prior to opening the OLA regular season April 26 at Akwesasne.

Coming off their best season to date, the 'Dogs will play at Six Nations for a pre-season tune-up event Saturday, March 29 when they'll face Sarnia, Hamilton and Wallaceburg. They've also entered an exhibition tourney in St. Catharines April 12, with Niagara, host Spartan and Welland providing the opposition.

Brendan MacDonald says he is hoping to make the Beaches Jr.A lacrosse team this spring and then attend a U.S. prep school in the fall.
