

Scouting groups seek donations to aid Scoutrees for Canada

Georgetown and Acton Beavers, Cubs and Scouts will help plant 3,000 trees, as part of the national Scoutrees for Canada program, on Saturday, April 19, 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. at Dufferin's Acton Quarry.

This is in addition to the millions of trees that will be planted by Scouts across Canada this year.

Debbie MacPherson, Area Commissioner of Greater Halton Area, stated that Scoutrees for Canada is designed to give all members of Scouting the opportunity to demonstrate, in a practical way, their concern for Canada.

MacPherson pointed out that Scoutrees for Canada is also a fundraising project for Georgetown and Acton Scouting. The funds raised this year will be used to help further Scouting in the community and meet other local needs. Some of the money raised will be used to support international programs of Scouts Canada, practical programs designed to help Scouts in developing countries learn skills and trades so they can help feed and support their families and communities.

Each participant will be expected to plant between 25 and 50 trees. Before the tree planting date, the Beavers, Cubs and Scouts will seek support from the community.

"Each household will only be contacted by one Scout," said MacPherson. "We hope that people will remember this when they are asked to participate."

Scoutrees for Canada helps to beautify Canada and will provide a future resource for all Canadians. To ensure that the trees will be planted correctly and will have a maximum chance for survival, Greater Halton Area has arranged for all participants to receive practical training in conservation and reforestation.
