Michelle Clement

Michelle Clement and the staff at Tan-It are proud to offer an unforgettable tanning experience in their immaculately-clean Georgetown facility. Michelle Clement, the general manager of both the Georgetown and Milton locations, has 10 years of experience in the tanning industry and uses that knowledge to make sure her clients have the best tanning experience possible.

Michelle, who grew up in Georgetown, is very involved with local charities and fundraising efforts - like the upcoming Breast Cancer Walk - and encourages her clients to do the same.

Located on Guelph Street, Tan-It has a wide range of tanning packages and products, as well as three levels of tanning in a controlled environment. The store's friendly and knowledgeable staff are more than happy to help make sure you leave satisfied.

"We strive to educate our customers about the benefits of UVB," she says. "We also strive to provide superior customer service."

Amanda Halliday

Barbertowne Pub is proud to be part of the Georgetown community. So proud, in fact, that the pub was named after two of Georgetown's founding families: the Barber family and Georgetown's founder George Kennedy.

"They were the main bread winners of the original Georgetown," says Amanda Halliday, the pub's general manager.

When Mandy, as she likes to be called, moved to Georgetown nine years ago, she immediately embraced the community's small-town feel. She started working at the pub five years ago and has loved every minute of it.

"I love the one-on-one relationships I've built with customers," she says. "I've formed life-long friendships."

She is proud of Barbertowne's role in supporting the community. The pub sponsors many local events, like charity golf tournaments and the Santa Claus Parade.

Amanda wants to invite the community to stop by and sample delicious food and beverages in the pub's friendly, family environment.

"Come out and enjoy Saturday wing night starting May 10th!" she says.

Denise Dilbey, Broker

Denise Dilbey loves introducing people to the area she has called home for so many years. As a real estate broker with Royal LePage Meadowtowne Realty, Denise helps her clients buy and sell properties in the Halton Hills area and beyond. The No. 1 salesperson at her company numerous times in the last three years, Denise is a Relocation Specialist and is certified in Senior Real Estate Specialist by the National Association of Realtors.

"I take pride in introducing my clients to the community" she says. "I assist them in fulfilling their goals of home ownership exceeding their expectations."

As an active volunteer, Denise knows all about what Halton Hills has to offer. She is the chairperson for Literacy North Halton, a local organization that provides tutoring and literacy services to adults. She is also very involved in the Acton Kinette Club, acting as the group's treasurer and helping to organize events like the Acton Community Brunch and Tween Dances.

"I work hard for my clients & give back to the community through volunteer work where I live."

Donna Kuenzig

On any given day, you can find Donna Kuenzig zipping around town between Georgetown Daycare and Nursery School Inc.'s three Halton Hills locations. As the owner and operator, Donna is kept busy overseeing the centre's three programs: daycare, nursery school and school-age, with ages ranging from 15 months to 11 years.

Her interest in early childhood education began as a teenager, when she volunteered at a daycare centre.

"I realized what a positive impact early childhood educators could have on the children," she says. "I knew right away that this was what I wanted to pursue."

Donna went to school and received her diploma in early childhood education. She opened her first daycare program in 1986, followed by the nursery school program a year later. Six years ago, she added the school-age program.

Over the years, Donna has enjoyed watching the kids learn, develop and grow.

"Children learn not only cognitively, but physically, socially and emotionally as well," she says. "I enjoy being a part in that ongoing development."

Darlene & Shari

Blue Springs Spa has gone through some big changes lately. The Acton spa recently launched a new website with a full price list, photos and much more. The interior has undergone a complete renovation. The spa's dedicated staff is introducing new, more natural lines of products for hair, skin, feet and body.

"We're changing daily," says Shari Kravis, who co-owns the spa with Darlene Saunders.

For the last five years, Blue Springs Spa has become an oasis of relaxation for its busy customers. Located on Mill Street East in Acton, Blue Springs offers full spa and salon services, from manicures and facials to massages and hair styling.

When co-owners Darlene Saunders and Shari Kravis bought the spa last November, they worked towards making Blue Springs Spa more of a wellness spa by offering the latest in organic and natural skin and hair products.

"Women today are more concerned about their overall health and well being - our goal is to provide product lines which reflect that philosophy".

Joanne Smith

Joanne Smith loves helping people to look their best. As the owner and operator of Moxxi Boutique, a female clothing store in downtown Georgetown that sells trendy contemporary clothing and accessories, Joanne has turned that passion into a career.

"It's fun to see people looking their best," she says. "I love helping women find styles that work for them and find things that make them feel good."

Whether you're looking for a new outfit or a whole new wardrobe, Joanne can help you. Moxxi carries the latest fashions from a variety of brands like Nine West, Kenneth Cole, Mac & Jac, and many more.

Recently, the store has started to offer private shopping nights. Groups of three or more can book an evening and come to the store after hours, where Joanne and staff provide their fashion expertise and an array of snacks and refreshments.

"It's a lot of fun," Joanne says. "It's like a party!"
