Playing in the mud can be fun!

Georgetown potter Janice Sukhiani works on a bowl at the Cedarvale Cottage during the annual Credit Valley Artisans show and sale held last weekend. The two-day show featured plenty of original one-of-a-kind works by the four guilds of the CVA including a piece by the Stained Glass Crafters below. The other guilds are the Potters and Sculptors, Heritage Handweavers and Spinners, and the Palette and Pencil Club. For more information about the club go to www.creditvalley-artisans.com

Local carvers win awards

Members of the Halton Wood Carving Club had a successful day at a recent Carving Competition held at the Brampton Seniors Centre.

The event, held April 26, and sponsored by the Flower City Seniors Centre, Brampton was open to all wood carving clubs and individual carvers.

Nine separate classifications, covering most aspects of wood carving, were judged by a People's Choice method.

Bonnie Malenfant of Erin, a longtime member of the Halton Wood Carvers, took the award for Best of Show. Her beautiful rendition of a handheld newborn babe (inset) was the top pick of the show.

Other Halton Wood Carving Club members with award winning entries:

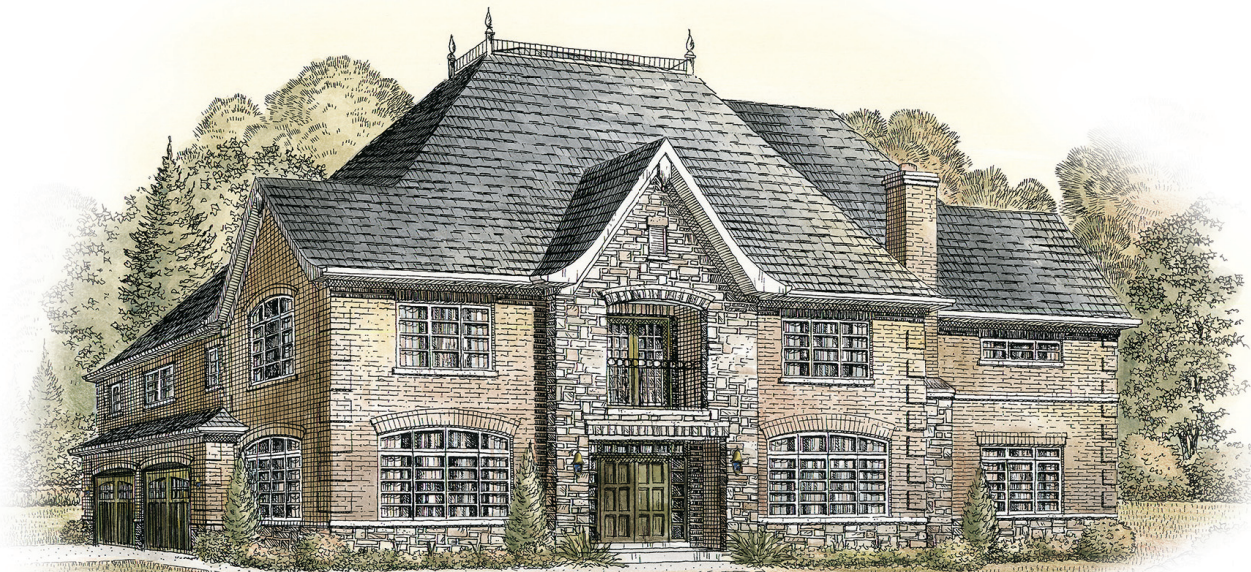

- Ruth Leeman, Erin, first, Animal Carving
- Norm Hohban, Georgetown, second, Bird Carving
- Bert Hutchinson, Georgetown, third, Relief Carving
- John Poole, Carlisle, second, Caricatures and third, Animal Carving

The Halton Wood Carvers is open to all, from beginner to experienced carvers. For information contact Norm Hohban, 905-702-8039.
