She dedicates her time to volunteering at St. George's Church by helping in the nursery and participating in the Youth Synod. Raeanne leads by example through her commitment to her studies, as well as the community.

Acton Youth's Chance for Change planning committee

The Acton Youth's Chance for Change planning committee consists of a group of individuals who have shown a tremendous commitment to activism in their community. Each of them has dedicated their time and energy every week for several months to design an event that reflects the importance of youth in the Acton community. With boundless creativity, they have met the challenge of creating an event where all youths' voices can be heard. Their daylong event, which is taking place on May 24, is providing a chance to recognize the talents and strength of Acton youth. This group of 11 motivated youth from Acton includes Hayley Gendron, Sean Haefner, Sarah Martin, Alannah Bowes, Dallas Shewfelt, Bekky Gibson, Corbin Resch, Rachael Moore, Matt Nuscimoto, Robyn Dercatch and Carli Vickery.

HAYLEY GENDRON
