Tenth edition of Songs for Hope strummed along

Ten years ago, Acton parents Hugh and Wendi Hunter, with their children, organized a concert to remember their daughter Emma and to raise funds for childhood cancer research at the Hospital for Sick Kids. Earlier this month, the couple celebrated Songs for Hope's 10th anniversary with a daylong concert at the Ballinfad Community Centre with help from Brampton Folk Club members. Left, Hugh Hunter warms up before going on stage, while below, Wendi Hunter plays a duet with Neil Sharp from Mississauga. Over the years, the Hunters have raised more than $25,000 through the concerts.
