

Zoning change okayed for church

Halton Hills council recently approved a zoning bylaw change to allow the construction of the new 29,797 sq. ft. Holy Cross Church on 5.5 acres on the southwest corner of Mountainview and Argyll Rds.

The Diocese of Hamilton/Holy Cross Church plans to build a new place of worship with 900-plus seats, a parish centre with a parish assembly hall, meeting space, an administration office, and a separate 3,678 sq. ft. residence for the clergy. There will be about 306 parking spots.

The new church is meant to replace the current 560-seat building and rectory on Maple Ave.

Permission to build is conditional on receiving a water allocation from Halton Region as well as record of site condition from the Ministry of Environment due to soil contamination issues.

Studies have determined that the fill material includes wood, steel, tar paper, concrete and brick, as well as methane gas in the buried topsoil layer.

Job centre open

The Georgetown Service Canada Centre for Youth on Guelph St. is looking to connect student workers with employers for jobs this summer and Youth Service Officers Nima Chooback (left) and Eni Xhemalce are on site to facilitate the search. Student visitors to the centre will have access to computers, Internet, fax, phones and job postings, as well as assistance with resumes, cover letters and interview skills. Employers will be able to view job postings and have access to hundreds of students who are seeking a job. All the services are provided free of charge. For more info, visit the centre at 232 Guelph St., call 905-877-7787, or visit the website servicecanada.gc.ca.
