

Literacy North Halton needs tutors

Literacy North Halton invites volunteers who would enjoy sharing their love of learning and abilities, with those who need support to improve their math, reading, writing and basic computer skills.

much. I want to thank everyone concerned for such a caring and personal program!"

"This is a very good program. I have learned a lot. I am comfortable using basic programs now, before I was not even sure about anything. I would encourage anyone that doesn't know about computers to come here and learn"

A tutor training workshop is provided on many aspects of working with our students, including the principles of adult learning, selection of training resources, and techniques on teaching spelling, writing and math.

A minimum commitment of three hours per week is requested.

If interested in participating in this program, please call 905-873-2200. For further information visit our website at www.literacynh.org

Volunteer tutors are needed to support our Read* Spell* Write program for adults in the Georgetown and Acton communities.

Some quotes from our students who recently completed our Literacy Upgrading program:

"I can write letters fill in application forms and I have more confidence in spelling and writing"

"I just regret that the program is over. I learned so much, but feel there is so much more to learn and I enjoyed the classroom time very

Tim's cookie sales this week to aid St. John Ambulance

Tim Hortons Smile Cookies are going on sale for $1 (tax excluded) at three stores across Georgetown from October 1-7 inclusive. The special double-sized chocolate chip cookies have double the meaning because all proceeds from the cookie sales will go towards St. John Ambulance.

St. John Ambulance medical first responders are well-trained and well-equipped volunteers whom are at countless public events to provide basic and advanced care when emergencies occur. By being there, St. John volunteer medical first responders are "first on the scene" and the "first to respond" in the critical minutes until medical assistance arrives.

"We are thrilled to support St. John Ambulance," says Mary Walker, Tim Hortons store owner. "The Smile Cookie program is a combined community effort because it's our customers who come in to buy the cookies and help us raise funds to support this worthy cause."

"We are delighted that our local Tim Hortons has chosen St. John Ambulance to be the recipient of the proceeds from their Smile Cookie campaign," says Tim Bauer, branch manager for St. John Ambulance. "The proceeds will be used towards the purchase of a new mobile first aid post (ambulance) for the Georgetown community."

Tim Hortons has been supporting local communities through the "Smile Cookie" program since 1996. The "Smile Cookie" program originally began in Hamilton, Ontario to help raise funds for the Hamilton Children's Hospital. Since then, it has expanded across Canada helping a variety of children's charities, hospitals and community programs.
