Local youth loved making others laugh

Continued from pg. 1

McColl and her partner Mike Mayes, were following in their truck about 7 km behind the Honda driven by David Mayes, a relative of Mike's, said DeForest.

"The kids absolutely adore him (David)," said DeForest.

He said his daughter "loved cottage life" and got her boating licence at the age of 10.

"She was an avid water and downhill skier," said DeForest. "She loved people— young and old— cats, dogs, butterflies and chipmunks."

Chelsea wasn't satisfied being a Brownie, "she had to become a Cub," he said.

DeForest said his daughter's favourite minister Reverend Cam Taylor will preside at her funeral service Friday morning.

Shirley Chaisson, principal at Stewarttown Middle School where Chelsea was in Grade 7, called her "a wonderful student" who was "very caring and involved in all elements of school life."

"Everybody would recognize her when they came into the school because of her positive attitude and she was full of enthusiasm for everyone," said Chaisson.

She said members of the school board's Tragic

Events Response Team had been at the school helping Chelsea's classmates cope with their grief.

Three of Chelsea's young friends— Madison Phipps, Amanda Kuipers and Kate Foster— all Stewarttown students, said she was "really funny" and loved making people laugh.

"When someone was sad, she always tried to make them feel better," said Madison. "She always tried to make people believe in themselves."

Kate said her friend was athletic and "loved to play sports and games."

Madison's mom, Shelley Phipps, described Chelsea as "vivacious," and a "really unique little girl."

"She had quite the personality," said Amanda's mom, Brenda Kuipers. "She was so tall and the way she would come up to greet you with such confidence, it would just blow us parents away."

Chelsea is survived by her father John, mother Yvonne and her life partner Mike, brothers Danny and Cody, grandparents Gwen and Gerald DeForest, and other relatives.

Visitation will be tomorrow (Thursday) from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. at J.S. Jones & Son Funeral Home, 11582 Trafalgar Rd. The funeral service will be held in the chapel Friday at 11 a.m.
