

It works It lasts.

Bridget Lost: 52 pounds

"I look forward to getting out of bed each day. Since losing weight, I have gained self-confidence in the manner that I present myself to others. I am generally happier and love life even more. I believe now that "fat" is a state of mind, and after maintaining for nearly a year, that state of mind is going away. I feel good with who I am and what I look like. I can't remember looking this good or feeling this confident about the way I look."
