Town budget discussions to begin Monday

CYNTHIA GAMBLE
Staff Writer

It will be delegation night on Monday when, for the first time, Halton Hills council begins working on its 2008 budget in November.

Treasurer Ed DeSousa is expected to make a presentation on the 2008 capital budget and nine-year forecast (2009-2017). He will be followed by public delegations involving both the capital and operating budget.

On the agenda, as of press time, is Mark Rowe, chair of Heritage Halton Hills, who will discuss the Heritage Property Tax Relief program— at a cost $8,300.

DeSousa will recommend a $9.97 million capital budget and a $111 million capital forecast.

Seven projects represent 54 per cent of the capital budget:

- $1.65 million pavement management on various roads in Acton, including Kingham Rd., Storey Ave.,

Church St. and Acton Blvd.

- $950,000 Glen bridge rehabilitation
- $630,000 Dominion Gardens Park (phase 2)
- $618,000 Dominion Gardens splash pad
- $605,000, 10 Sideroad boulevard and streetlights
- $561,000, Acton Community Sports Park (phase 2)
- $391,000, public works equipment replacement.

Among the list of 70 items included in the 2008 capital budget are: Dick Licata Pool demolition, Fairgrounds sports field lighting replacement, fairgrounds bleachers, traffic signal installations on Mountainview Rd. at Armstrong Ave. and on Guelph St. at Main St. N.; resurfacing of tennis courts in Acton and Georgetown, park improvements in Acton and Georgetown, and a transportation master plan update.

Extras that departments have requested include:

- $21,000 in the Recreation and Parks Department budget to implement the Georgetown Horticultural Society proposal for allotment gardens in Dominion Gardens Park.
- The library board is requesting, due to the delay of the expansion of the Georgetown library branch, a number of items to make the wait more palatable for both patrons and staff including— $140,800 for Monday openings at the Georgetown branch; $150,000 for furnishings/equipment replacement; $24,600 to create quiet reading areas in the Gallery; $6,500 to upgrade 50 Market St. for administration space, $16,000-$20,000 on a feasibility study for a library fundraising campaign and $90,000 for a fund development coordinator.

This is also the first year that the capital budget and operating budget have been approved separately.

Discussion dates for the 2008 operating budget are January 6, 14 and 15.
