

Getting the 'low-down' on fire safety

Grade 4 students at Silver Creek Public School recently learned how to react when waking up in a fire situation as staff from Halton Hills Fire Protection and Prevention Services dropped by with their mobile trailer to demonstrate how smoke fills a bedroom. Students Arielle Heaps, Mitchell Nyarady and Jenna Terrill, as well as teacher Robyn Cook, learned about dropping to the floor and testing doors for heat, before crawling on the floor to safety. The display has been demonstrated at every Grade 4 class in Halton Hills this year.

Where Child Abuse Hurts Most

Sometimes the worst scars of child abuse can't be seen. Whether physical or emotional, abuse attacks a child's self-esteem and emotional development, leaving long-term emotional trauma and pain. You can help prevent child abuse by being a nurturing parent or caregiver. By letting children know they are special, competent and loved, you can help them develop positive self-images and happier futures. If you feel overwhelmed, angry or frustrated as a parent, help is out there for you. Look in your area for support groups and services, or talk to a trusted friend, family member, pastor or doctor about what you can do to protect and support your child. If we all do our part to prevent child abuse, we'll get to the heart of the matter.
