

Giudice has earned respect

lot of respect expected on and off the ice. Being a captain at age 18 was tough at first. Some of the older guys didn't like someone younger than they were in that position, but after a while, you earn their respect."

Giudice credits personal trainer Mike Marcolini of Georgetown's Armstrong Muscle Depot for guiding him through his injury rehabilitation and designing a fitness program that prepares for the grind of a 66-game regular season in the OHL.

The Wolves will host Barrie tonight (Friday) and Brampton Saturday before traveling south for Monday's contest, leaving little time for a full-fledged Thanksgiving dinner.

"My parents (Mike and Petra) are coming up to Sudbury for the weekend games, but because of the schedule I don't think we're really having a Thanksgiving dinner his year," Giudice added.

"Hopefully there'll be a couple of family dinners in there somewhere between spending the weekend playing hockey. There aren't many of my games that my parents miss, even the ones in the U.S. and they've supported me all the way up through my minor hockey years. They helped me get through some tough times with my injuries that one year and I can't thank them enough."

Trail Oshawa by one point Bulldogs hold down second place

The Halton Hills Bulldogs are in second place after five weeks of the Ontario Junior Men's Field Lacrosse League Division One season, one point back of front-running Oshawa.

At 7-2-0, the Bulldogs won both of their games last weekend, avenging an early season loss to Niagara with an 8-4 triumph.

Halton Hills also defeated a short-staffed

Brampton side 13-1.

Mike Burke leads the "Dogs in scoring with 11 goals and 14 assists in seven starts. Pat Saunders is tops in goals with 13 while J.J. Laforet is third in team scoring with nine goals and nine assists.

The Bulldogs will finish the regular season Oct. 19 with two games against Oshawa and another with Brampton.

Tickets are going fast for Leaf Alumni-Firefighters charity game

Tickets are already going quickly for a benefit hockey game in January, featuring the Toronto Maple Leaf Alumni against the Halton Hills Firefighters in Georgetown.

Last year's event was a sellout and funds raised were in support of Cancer Assistance

Services-Halton Hills, which will be the beneficiary of the 2009 fund-raiser as well. The game will take place Sunday, Jan. 11 at 1 p.m. at the Alcott Arena.
