

Citizens named to form Arenas Task Force

The people who will decide the future direction of arenas in Georgetown have been named.

The Georgetown Arenas Task Force, set up by council earlier this month, will be directed to make recommendations to council by April 30, 2009 on the future of Memorial Arena and on the provision of additional ice surfaces in Georgetown. Ward 2 Councillor Bryan Lewis will chair the task force.

"I am very pleased with the residents who have stepped up in the formation of the Georgetown Arenas Task Force. It represents the users of the facilities and residents who have a concern going forward to the amount of recreational uses the arenas may or may not supply," Lewis said in a Town press release yesterday (Thursday).

In addition to Lewis, task force members include Mayor Rick Bonnette, who will serve as vice chair, Ward 2 Councillor Dave Kentner, Ward 4 Councillor John Duncan, Chief Administrative Officer Dennis Perlin, Director of Recreation and Parks Terry Alyman, and community members: Jay Anderson, President of Halton Men's Hockey League; Todd Kearney, president Halton Hills Minor Lacrosse Association; Hal Pells, president of Georgetown Minor Hockey Association; Laura Rees, president of Georgetown Skating Club; Grace Rylett, president of Halton Hills Twisters

Hockey, John Templeman, Men's non-contact Hockey League and also the Georgetown Men's Ball Hockey League and Halton Hills residents Cheryl Niewendyk and Tom Wharton.

The Task Force will soon meet to set the Terms of Reference and start the process of investigation and researching the current and future needs of the arenas in Georgetown.

"The Task Force will have tremendous responsibility in mapping out a future blueprint of our arena facilities; they are eager to get going," said Bonnette.

The Task Force will be accepting delegations at the appropriate meeting. The concluding report is due before council by April 30, 2009.
