owner, you have no money because it's all tied up in your business," Chapman said, adding they are still committed to Acton.

Chapman turns 60 next year and has two girls, the eldest in high school. The family lives on a certified organic farm northeast of Acton.

He said Norval based SunOpta, with $600-million a year in sales in the organic world, is a good fit, and of all the potential purchasers that approached them over the years, this was the only "marriage" that made sense.

"It was important to us that everyone kept their jobs. It was very important to us that we stayed in Acton, it was very important to us that we dealt with people that shared our values," Chapman said, adding it was not an "easy" decision to make, but one that will lead to less stress.

"In the past, everything that we owned was pledged to build the business. We don't have that problem anymore and, I'm dealing now with people who can help us finance our growth, which they can."

The Chapmans started Purity in 1984, based on the vision of "empowering people to create well-being in their lives."

Purity is Canada's top supplier of natural health products, servicing over 5,000 health food, pharmacy and practitioner accounts. Purity is expected to do $50-million in sales this year.

The new company is Purity Life Health Products, a division of SunOpta Inc.
