Noah hand crafts his kayaks

Need something to while away those long winter days? How about building a kayak.

Noah Rowsell, long an outdoorsman, spent last winter building a 13'6" kayak for his wife Reta to complement a similar one he hand built for himself last fall.

The couple, who reside on Jeffrey Ave. have already launched the 40-pound craft, the first on Fairy Lake after ice melted, last Friday, April 20. They are taking off for Newfoundland early this summer to enjoy the east coast weather in their kayaks as well as paddling on Fairy Lake.
