Indoor soccer on verge of playoffs

Registration now open for next session

The first season of indoor soccer at the Dufferin Rural Heritage Community Centre is winding up, with only one more week of regular league play and then the championships will start.

The season has been a great success for players, because the surface is simply the best playing around. The soccer town) had predicted that clubs (Acton and George-almost exactly what it was for this first session and hope that it will grow slightly in January for the second session. In addition, there is a lacrosse league being played in the same facility on Sunday evenings, which means the building is busy every evening of the week.

Registration is now open for the January to March indoor soccer session and youth players can sign up on-line either at the Georgetown or Acton soccer club web sites. Adult players for the men's, women's, or the extremely popular co-ed leagues must sign up on the Acton SC website www.actonsoccer.org.
