Help for unemployed available at both Halton Hills' libraries

Now that the Holiday Season is over, it is time to get back into the regular routine. Many of you always shop local. It is now equally important to continue to shop local in these difficult economic times. We have many businesses in our community who provide professional service. So, the next time you need furniture, an insurance quote, a can of paint, an oil change, or a contractor, or whatever, consider giving the local businesses the first crack. They are the ones who pay taxes, employ local people, and donate to local charities and sponsor your kid's sports teams.

our community to assist those looking for new jobs, a career change, or for those wishing to start their own business. A great local resource is the Halton Hills Public Libraries which is a one stop resource centre for Federal and Provincial programs, the Region of Halton, and the Town of Halton Hills. You can access the Library's online services with your library card, and you can connect 24/7 to over 50 databases to find information on thousands of careers. Our libraries provide internet workstations and access to word processing and resume writing software. Halton Hills is committed to helping residents search for a new job. The libraries in Acton and Georgetown should be your first stop in your career search. Links are provided through the Town's web site at www.haltonhills.ca to this worthwhile organization. Shauna Dunwoody (a victim to cancer) played a tremendous game in goal. Shauna, you were an inspiration to the 1,000 spectators at the game. Special thanks to Brian Turner and Brian Faubert who put countless hours behind the scenes to make this event go without a hitch.
