Sign spotlights drunk driving

The sobering message that a Milton man, driving with two-and-a-half times the legal limit of alcohol in his blood in a Queen Street East parking lot was flashed to passing motorists for two days after his arrest.

Halton police received a report about a suspicious driver in the McDonalds parking lot just after midnight, and arrested the driver who was charged with impaired driving and having more than 80-milligrams of alcohol in 100-millilitres of blood.

The next day a solar-powered illuminated sign and trailer was broadcasting the drunken driving incident in what police said is a public education program.

"No names are given – it's so the people in the area know that we are doing impaired (driving) enforcement and they (impaired drivers) are still out there," said Halton Constable Derek Andrews on Tuesday as he hooked up the mobile sign/trailer to remove it from the scene.

Paid for by the Halton chapter of MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Driving) the sign is placed at locations in District One (Acton, Georgetown and Milton) at scenes of impaired driving crashes, impaired arrests and RIDE programs.

HALLOWEEN FOR HUNGER: The student council at McKenzie-Smith Bennett School is staging a "Cans Instead of Candy" campaign for Hallowe'en, collecting non-perishable food for Acton's food bank, instead of candy. There will be donation boxes at the school and some students will collect food, not candy, when they go trick or treating. See story on page 5. – Frances Niblock photo
