Get out and vote | Oh deer

Dear Editor,

As the municipal election draws closer, I would like to remind the Catholic ratepayers to get out and vote for the trustee who will represent you for the next four years on the Halton Catholic District school board. This is the first time I can recall that a native of Acton is running for a seat on the board since this inception of the regional boards. That person is Mark Rowe. Mark is a former teacher, an author who has written books both on the history of Acton and the history of Georgetown as well as an esteemed member of the historical society. Mark grew up in Acton and knows the community well. He has resided in Glen Williams for several years and has taught in Georgetown. He certainly is very familiar with both towns that comprise Halton Hills and I know he will work hard to meet the needs of the whole community. Make your vote count.

Sincerely,
Peg Graham, Acton.

To the editor,

I am not sure if anyone else has seen an unusual deer/elk/reindeer in the area, but both my husband and I saw one on Monday night. It was approximately 8:30 p.m., and he was just coming home from work. He was driving up Agnes Street, towards Poplar Avenue, and he saw a deer on the road. He thought it might have been a reindeer, but as he drew closer, realized it was too small. He phoned me, and I ran outside to meet him. As I got into his work truck, the animal came up the dirt road onto Crescent Street. It was, he figured, a large White Tail deer, with a large rack. We followed it up Crescent and tried to get pictures, but it stayed just out of "shooting" distance. The pictures on both his camera and my cell phone are too dark.

We then lost sight of it, approximately half way up Crescent Street. We drove around both Crescent and Poplar but did not sight it again. We don't know if anyone else saw it, or if there is a deer farm close by and it escaped. It was quite an interesting sight to see, right in town, and it didn't seem to shy away from his headlights or vehicle.

We would be interested to know if anyone else saw it, and if it is still "running free."

Regards,
Graham and Jennifer Gies,
Acton
