Roxy gets Trillium grant

The sounds will be sweeter at Acton's Roxy Community Music Place, thanks to a $15,000 Trillium grant to buy sound stage equipment that will help create an attractive and welcoming space for youths and artists to share their musical talents.

Wellington-Halton Hills MPP Ted Arnott, and Sheila Tutty, a volunteer with the Ontario Trillium Foundation, delivered the cheque to Acton on Tuesday afternoon after delivering two other cheques to Georgetown groups. The total grants were $209,400.

Georgetown Globe Productions Inc. received $150,000 over one year to renovate and re-purpose a historical building, the old drill shed, that will serve as a multi-use arts and cultural centre in Halton Hills. The renovation will also help improve the facility's energy efficiency and make it more accessible to community residents.

The 676 Lorne Scots Royal Canadian Army Cadets received $44,400 over one year to support a wide range of outdoor physical fitness and recreational activities by replacing aging sports and camping equipment that will be used by youth aged 12 to 18 from Georgetown, Brampton and West Brampton.

The Ontario Trillium Foundation makes nearly 1,500 grants each year to charitable and not-for-profit organizations located across the province. It awards grants in both its Province-wide and Community programs in the following sectors; Arts and Culture, Sports and Recreation, the Environment and Human and Social Services.

"Congratulations to Georgetown Globe Productions Inc., 676 Lorne Scots Royal Canadian Army Cadets and the Roxy Community Place on their successful Trillium applications," Arnott said, adding, "Each of these organizations does outstanding work in our communities and they deserve our thanks."
