SCHOOL BUILT FOR TIMEE

In a lonely glen in Sutherlandshire Scotland, the smallest school in the British Empire is thriving. It was built to comply with an Act of Parliament which rules that no child may walk more than three miles to school. Three children of James McKny, a shepherd are the sole pupils. Every morning they rinish their breakfast in the shepherd's hut on the moors, and set out on their three-mile trudge to school. Strict hours are kept at the school and the children are seldom late. A teacher cycles three miles every day from her home to instruct.

Dear Sir: I have read with interest of your campaign for no smoking in the Acton Arens. I was into Calgary and saw the final game of the Alberta Senior playoffs, between Luscar Indians and Coleman Canadians, and had a seat right near one of the exits. Immediately below me I observed a man who said to all those smoking as they entered, "No smoking in the arena, please." If they paid no attention to him, another usher farther on again warned them. Every little while a policeman sauntered up to see that everything was all right. Before the game and between periods two boys skated around on the ice carrying signs, "No smoking in the arena, please." Also over the loudspeaker system, every little while, came the warning, "No smoking in the arena, please." The result o this campaign against smoking; the air was very clear, benefitting both players and spectators. This shows that it can be done and is being done in Calgary's

Western Canada.

Dear PREE PRESS: I have just laid down a book of appraisements of a considerable number of British politicians of war-time. Y read of one of them, Lord Inverforth, who was Minister of Munitions at the close, as saying what is well worth considering In these restless times, when governments are looked to to bring relief, or blamed if they do not: "All the fallacles and wild theories of revolutionary minds break automatically on the rack of industrial fact. The more freely nations trade together, the more clearly will !! be seen that humanity must work out its salvation within the limits of economic law. And the way to a smooth working are merchants. The economic law by no means excludes, but rather demands humaneness. Both capital and labor must think of the general community. The chief enemies of mankind are moral slackness and physical slackness." This man was brought to the Department from a business life. In cleaning up War Rubbish, scattered over four continents, he saved Britain millions of rather than an knock-down price, and out of that is by recognizing the claims of moral law. We are men before we by refusing extortionate claims of disappointed contractors. He also accepted years; 3 -Helfers, 1-year-old; 4 Cholon no salary himself. One of the demands of the feeblenumbered opposition in the Alberta Legislature is that this-just nowoverwhelmingly powerful Government elected to be a financial deliverance from poverty, should, as a start, and as sign, cut their own salaries very much. Is not this worthy of consideration, in many other spheres?

According to statistics, released by the 92,562 barrels; eight crude, 1:198 barrels; and there are numerous other properties outside in the province pro-ducing or projected, or seeking permits. Ropes: 30 Gallon Steel Drum; 40 Gallon Steel Drum; 45 Gallon Oak Barrel; Hogs. Milton, Burlington, Bell's, Tucks, Tans-Wheat and live stock in past years have been great sources of income, but various factors have combined to minify these, but power and heat and light are necessary, and these are so far in good abundance. Hockey and curling are, after all side lesues here, compared with the production of life's comforts, and dkappointment (?) re the prospect of no "dividends."

An Acton enterprise looming up for many is the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of the present United Church building, as noted in issue of March 25th. Many changes have occurred since July 1st, 1876. Pew, very few, are still there who were then. Many others, familiar with the place, are scattered far and wide. There are quite a number out by the foothills here. There will surely be a great gathering. Perhaps more anon.
