WOMEN FARMERS IN QUEBEC During the last ten years the women's farm club movement has made remarkable progress in the Province of Quebec, advancing from 100 clubs, with 66,225 members in 1926, to 260 clubs with 11,230 members in 1935. The so-called weaker sex are no longer content to restrict themselves to household duties, and are applying their efforts to many different phases of agriculture with marked success. Membership in poultry clubs included 7,254 women who had 222,120 layers and 364,672 spring chickens. Egg production by the birds of these poultrywomen totaled well over two million dozen of which more than one million dozen were marketed. Over 8,000 of the farm club women are engaged in horticulture; over 11,000 are spinners and nearly 10,000 are weavers. Sheep raising is included in the program of 4,604 of the club members who kept 3,333 sheep, with an output of 472,361 pounds of wool. Women farmers growing flax numbered 1,730, producing 140,948 pounds of flaxseed and 72,452 pounds of flax. Canning is also included in the multifarious duties of these farm women, and canned goods to the value of $190,897 were produced during the year ended June 30th, 1935. Eight hundred and twenty-five of the women are beekeepers, tending 3,084 hives. Linnæa women by these women farmers within a year had a value of $18,833, and the total value of wool woven was $82,962. Over 4,000 of the farm club women took part in agricultural fairs.

KNOW THOROUGHLY "There's just one way to know a thing and that's to know it," said the engineer of a construction gang to the young fellow who had bungled with chain and compass. "A lot of fellows know things halfway, but if someone comes along and argues with them, right away they begin to doubt if what they thought they knew is so. That kind of knowledge never get many anywhere. He sure And when you're sure, stick to it. That's the kind of knowledge that builds bridges and bars tunnels and slices of ships across the seas." Such knowledge is also the kind that builds character, that gives proper direction to life, that enables us to avoid needless trouble and tragedy. In the moral sphere, as elsewhere, one positive "I know" is worth a dozen mere "I think's."

MARRIAGES

HEPBURN-GIFFEN A quiet wedding took place when Miss Margaret Agnes Giffen, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Giffen, of Georgetown, was married to Mr. Russell Hephburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hephburn, of Georgetown, at the home of her brother, Mr. Thomas Giffen, Georgetown, United Church, officiating. The bride, who was given away by her brother, wore a gown of pale blue suede lace, and carried a bouquet of Tallman roses. She was attended by little Miss Shirley Gordon, niece of the groom, as flower girl, wearing pink tulle, and carrying a basket of sweet peas. Mrs. Elmer May, sister of the bride, played the wedding music. For a trip through Eastern Ontario and Quebec, the bride travelled in a navy crepe frock, with navy coat and accessories, and gray wolf fur. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Hephburn will live in Georgetown.

ALLEN-DEWAR An interesting wedding took place on Saturday afternoon at the rectory, Burlington, when Helen Fraser Dewar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Dewar, of Milton, was married to John H. Allen, of Burlington. The service was conducted by Rev. Daniel Ford, parish priest of Burlington and Milton, while Miss Edith Dewar, aunt of the bride, played the wedding music. During the signing of the register the bride's sister, Mrs. Austin Tufford, sang. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of blue silk net over blue satin, and carried a bouquet of Sweetheart roses, forget-me-nots and lily-of-the-valley. She was attended by a reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mill Street, Milton. Mrs. Dewar welcoming her guests in a becoming gown of blue suede lace with matching hat and corsage of Tallman roses and lily-of-the-valley. Mrs. Allen, mother of the groom, wore green crepe with matching hat and corsage of roses. Later the bridal couple left by motor for a wedding trip, the bride travelling in a navy blue triple sheer gown, grey and blue tweed coat, with wolf collar, and matching hat and accessories. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm at Burlington.

COLLINS-HENDERSON A wedding of interest to many friends of the bride and family, in Acton, took place in Old St. Andrew's Church, on Saturday, when Edna Mae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Henderson, now of Toronto, became the bride of Mr. Herbert A. E. Collins, son of Mrs. Collins and the late Mr. W. A. Collins. Palm standards of spring flowers decorated the church. Rev. Dr. J. E. P. Schlar performed the ceremony. Mr. C. Franklyn Legge was at the organ, and during the signing of the register Miss Eleanor Collins, sister of the groom, sang. The bride, who came in with her father, wore a Molyneux model of pink-pearl satin, with bell-shaped train and long tight sleeves, trimmed with tiny matching buttons. Her matching tulle veil fell from a small cap arranged with a coronet of pearls. She carried Euphorbia roses, orchids, and lily-of-the-valley. Mrs. David G. Henderson, of Preston, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were, Miss Margaret Graham and Miss Marion Carson. They wore Lawlin gowns of peach pink tulle with fitted lines, flaring into full skirts with trains, small matching hats, and carried large bouquets of Tallman roses. Mr. Strachan Symington was groomsmen and Mr. George Sanderson and Mr. Arthur C. Henderson, brother of the bride, were ushers.

The reception was held in the Tudor Room of the Royal York Hotel. Mrs. Henderson, wearing a gown of French midnight blue lace, with matching straw hat and a corsage of Tallman roses, welcomed the guests. Mrs. Collins, mother of the groom, wore a black and white crepe gown with black tulle coat, black and white hat, and her flowers were a corsage of red roses.

BRIDLE-DUNHAM An interesting wedding took place at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, April 11th, in Trinity United Church, Burlington, when Harriett Elizabeth, daughter of Constable and Mrs. J. B. Dunham, became the bride of Mr. Geo. Wilfred Bridle, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bridle, Freeman, Ferns and spring flowers decorated the church. The service was conducted by Rev. Pinlay Matheson, assisted by Rev. A. N. Lambhead. Mrs. P. D. O'Neil presided at the organ, and Miss Edith Spence, violinist, played "I Love You Truly" during the signing of the register. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pale pink gown of bridal net over pink tulle, with net hat and pink accessories, and carried a bouquet of snapdragons. Miss Jennie Bridle, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, wearing blue crepe with grey accessories, carried a bouquet of snapdragons. Mr. Harold Dunham, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Ushers were Mr. Kenneth Dunham, Dundas, N.Y.; Mr. Lester Bell, Verastill, N.Y., cousins of the bride; Mr. Douglas Bridle, brother of the groom, and Mr. Joe E. Brown, cousin of the groom, both of Burlington. Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 8 Locust Street. The guests, numbering about 60, were received by the bride's mother, wearing a grey French crepe, with navy accessories, with a corsage of violets and carnations. She was assisted by Mrs. Bridle, in rust crepe, with contrasting accessories, with corsage of violets and carnations. For going away, the bride wore a navy triple sheer dress, with navy and grey accessories. After a motor trip to points west, Mr. and Mrs. Bridle will reside at Eden Mills. Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from Dunkirk, N. Y.; Versailles, N. Y.; Forest, Toronto, Rodney, Scotland, Eden Mills, Hamilton and London. The groom's gift to the bride was a white gold wrist watch; to the bridesmaid, a leather hand bag; to the maid of honor, organist and violinist, beaded evening bags; to the groomsmen, a combination brush and shiner in leather case, and to the ushers, combination leather bill-fold and key cases.—Burlington Gazette.

JACK MINER, CANADIAN NATURALIST, CELEBRATES HIS 71st BIRTHDAY

Says Biggest Asset is His Friends and Good Health

Jack Miner, on April 10th, celebrated his 71st birthday. Edgar A. Guest, the Detroit poet, terms him "the best beloved Christian in America"; while Irvin S. Cobb, writer and humorist says "Jack Miner is the greatest practical naturalist on the planet." An editorial in the "Ottawa Citizen" says: "Not Watt, but a succession of inventors made the steam engine; not Bell, but many electrical experiments made the telephone. Jack Miner, in this sense, has given us the bird sanctuary." In other words, popularized the sanctuary idea. While his hair is turning somewhat white, otherwise no one can notice the years creeping on him, because he is as active and as enthusiastic in his study of bird life as he was twenty years ago. The world knows he is poor financially, and he says: "My biggest asset is my friends throughout the world, and the good health the good Lord has blessed me with. The friends are something money cannot buy. Some men can't count their money; but I can't count my friends."

In his birthday interview, he said: "If it were not for children, flowers, birds and music—especially children—I would have no desire to carry on." And his advice to young men was: "Don't work all your life to make a living, but work to live all your life."

When asked what he thought about world affairs, he said: "The hope of the world is more love and the right kind of education, and less bayonet-point compulsion."

Speaking of religion, he said: "There is too much 'churchianity' and not enough Christianity, and the world needs more evangelism and less 'apelan'."

Everybody knows he never uses tobacco in any form, and never drinks anything stronger than water; but he said, "You cannot judge the size and quality of any man's heart by the smell of his breath."

In closing the interview, he said: "If a man is built of the right material, the more you sit on him the broader it will make him."

"Be sure you're right, and then go ahead, because you will be criticized if you do, and you will be criticized if you don't; so, do and be criticized; but to escape criticism, say nothing, do nothing and be nothing."

"This morning my small son offered me a penny for my thoughts." "The boy doesn't know the value of money yet."

Boy Scout News

The "sealed message" hike got under way early Saturday afternoon. A couple of Wolves strayed so far from their route that they didn't appear at the "ruins of the abandoned castle" until the game was over and the meal begun. And what a meal! Roast sausage, ground bacon and grass-garnished eggs were the popular dishes.

There was a splendid turnout at Monday's meeting. Troop Leader Jack Van Gosen introduced a new and lively compass relay game.

A recent Headquarters' bulletin carried the news that ex-Mayor George Elliott, of Milton, has been appointed to the Ontario Provincial Council. Mr. Elliott was the guest speaker at our Birthday Banquet. He is a thorough Canadian gentleman, takes a keen interest in Scouting, and will be a forceful personality in the Provincial Council. Acton Scouts are definitely pleased with Mr. Elliott's appointment.

Scoutmaster Mason paid a visit to the suggested camp site, near Terra Cotta, and was well pleased with the possibilities.

Action Scouts have been asked to usher at the Guelph Guide and Scout Rally, to be held May 1st, in the Coliseum.

CANADA'S SEA FISHERIES

Production from Canada's sea fisheries in 1935 totalled 8,140,250 cwts., a drop of something over 37,800 cwts., compared with the previous year. The value of the 1935 catch of fish and shellfish to the fishermen as landed also declined, amounting to slightly more than $14,594,000, or $248,000 less than in 1934. In British Columbia the catch gain was 105,870 cwts., and in New Brunswick about 48,700 cwts., but the total decrease elsewhere offset these gains. In Nova Scotia the landed value to the fishermen was better by $185,000 but in the other provinces the values were lower than in 1934.

Canada's fishing grounds are perhaps the most extensive in the world. On the Atlantic, from Grand Manan to Labrador, the coast line, not including the lower bay and indentations, measures over 5,000 miles. The Bay of Fundy, 8,000 square miles in extent, the Gulf of St. Lawrence, fully ten times that size, and other ocean waters comprise not less than 200,000 square miles, or over four-fifths of the area of the fishing grounds of the North Atlantic. In addition there are on the Atlantic seaboard 15,000 square miles of inshore waters controlled entirely by the Dominion. The Pacific coast of Canada is 7,180 miles in length, and is exceptionally well sheltered. Throughout the interior is a series of lakes which together contain more than half of the fresh water on the globe, Canada's share of the Great Lakes alone amounting to over 34,000 square miles.

Still more important than the extent of the Canadian fishing grounds is the quality of their product. Food fish improve in proportion to the purity and coldness of the waters in which they are taken and, by this standard, the Canadian cod, halibut, herring, mackerel, whitefish and salmon are the peers of any in the world.

THE SEASONS

An architect was planning a hotel. "What is the hotel to be called?" "The Five Seasons." "But there are only four." "What about the dead season?"

THIS NATURAL FOOD GENTLY REGULATES YOUR SYSTEM

Furnishes Needed "Bulk" for Regular Habits

Your doctor will tell you that keeping healthy depends far more on proper diet than on drugs, that common constipation is usually due to insufficient "bulk" in meals, and that patent medicines give you only temporary relief.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies gently acting "bulk" which corrects the cause of common constipation. This "bulk" takes up moisture, forming a soft mass which helps to cleanse the system.

ALL-BRAN gives your body the regular internal exercise it needs to prevent sluggishness. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron.

Careful studies on men and women have shown that this delicious cereal is perfectly satisfactory. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity, with milk or cream—or use in cooking.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. ALL-BRAN is much more effective than part-bran products. Avoid disappoinment—get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario. "Constipation due to insufficient 'bulk'."

NO HELP FROM HER

He was finding it hard to propose and Maggie, was too reticent to help him along.

"Maggie, I have been calling on you for three years now."

"Aye, Jock," she answered. "I have taken you out every Sunday Maggie."

"Aye, Jock."

"I have taken you to the pictures every Saturday, Maggie."

"Aye, Jock."

"And I have sat w' ye every Thursday night."

"Aye, Jock."

"And I'm here the noo."

"Aye, Jock."

"Then, in desperation: 'Maggie, d'ye no' smell a rat?'"

Lost Honeymooners Rescued

Setting out from Seattle, Wash., on an aerial honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. John Almosino came to grief near Princess Bay, Alaska, when their airplane crashed. The honeymooners wandered for a week without food or shelter, in bitter cold weather, and through dense forest before they were found, shivering and exhausted. They will survive. Mrs. Almosino, 18 years old, is shown ABOVE.
