things. We should be satisfied only when God is satisfied with our lives. Faith does not come from the school of learning; it comes from God.

On this sixtieth anniversary, can Jesus depend on us? Are we taking our share of His work and carrying His Kingdom forward.

Mr. Stewart then told the story of that very human disciple, Thomas, the doubter. Are young men and young women to-day doubting? What is needed is that we ask for His help.

Counsellors to-day are being ruled by dictators—by force, but lasting empires are not built on force. Let us look to the example of modern prophets.

One of the ablest of modern prophets, Dr. Kagawa, a Japanese, puts it thus: "The hope of the present world is Jesus, and Him Crucified."

Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, in a recent address, said the hope of the world was not in the League of Nations alone, but in our Lord Jesus Christ.

There is nothing in all the world that can compare with Jesus Christ. Mr. Stewart closed his discourse with: "He is the lily of the valley—the fairest of ten thousand to my soul."
