WHEN DO YOU OWN A BOOK?

Some newly rich families who wish the prestige of having a library, without the bother of selecting books, have filled their cases with pointed representations of rows of books. Literature in such libraries is represented by titles alone.

This seems absurd enough, but after all, is it any more ridiculous than being complacent over filling your library shelves with real books that are never opened? A painted copy of "David Copperfield" is worth as much as a real copy. If nobody is going to read it, you do not own a book when you have bought it, or when it has been given to you, but when you have been able to get something out of it. A very small library may be a valuable possession if it has been carefully selected and carefully read.

CAUGHT!

Wille's little sister came to the school-room door and handed the following note to the teacher: "Teacher, please excuse Wille—he caught a skunk."

TO RENOVATE VELVET

Velvet, plain or corded, should be washed in the following manner: Prepare a warm, soapy lather with shredded neutral soap and hot water softened with a pinch of borax, and immerse the garment, taking care that it is entirely covered. Leave for a few minutes, then wash the material by rubbing gently between the hands. Particular attention should be given to soiled or stained parts. Rinse in several lots of tepid water, then hang up, without wringing, to dry.

When quite dry go over the whole surface with a soft brush, keeping with the pile all the time. To remove creases or marks from velvet, hold the back of the fabric to the steam from a kettle, and allow it to percolate at the parts where the creases or marks appear. After it has been well steamed lay the pile down gently with a clean, fairly stiff brush. This treatment does no harm to the material.

NOT THE TIME, BUT THE MAN

Some young people have an idea that if they had been born at a different period in history, they would have been able to achieve distinction more easily. They like to picture to themselves the great achievements they would have accomplished, had they lived in pioneer days. One is rather amused to find that young fellows who indulge most in such daydreaming are frequently the sort who feel aggrieved if they have to do themselves a single luxury, and are secretly resentful if they are called on to prepare kindling or clean the sidewalk of snow.

INTERNATIONAL SECURITY TRADE GAINS

International trade in securities between Canada and other countries has increased considerably in 1936 compared with immediately previous year. During the first ten months of the year purchases by Canada of foreign securities totalled $299,743,993 compared with $199,869,387 in the corresponding period of 1935 and $258,122,765 in 1934. Correspondingly, sales of Canadian securities abroad totalled $300,570,706 compared with $234,768,583 and $274,680,062 in the corresponding periods of 1935 and 1934. These figures do not include sales of new issues of Canadian securities outside of Canada.

MISUSING THE IMAGINATION

Some young people use their imaginations in thinking up something to worry about. They lie awake nights, sweating over the possibility that they may fall in their examinations or lose their jobs.

If you are going to let your fancy run riot, why not imagine good things? Why not picture yourself winning honors in school, or if you are a wage earner, getting a raise? Not only will you feel happier and sleep more soundly, but you will help to bring about the desirable condition you picture.

KNOWS HIS JOB

A Union Pacific shopman had been drawn on a Federal grand jury and didn't want to serve. When his name was called he asked Judge Pollock to excuse him. "We are very busy at the shops," said he, "and I ought to be there."

"So you are one of those men who think the Union Pacific couldn't get along without you," remarked the judge. "No, your honor," said the shopman, "I know it could get along without me, but I don't want it to find it out."

"ZIEGFELD" IS GREATEST SHOW EVER SCREENED

In "The Great Ziegfeld," at the Gregory Theatre, Acton, on April 6th and 8th, motion pictures have picked up the torch where the late Florenz Ziegfeld laid it down and have succeeded in out-Ziegfelding the great Ziegfeld himself. "The Great Ziegfeld" has everything that a great musical picture should have. It has, in the life of Ziegfeld, a most gripping and perfect, dramatic story. In its musical numbers, never before produced on such a scale of grandeur, it has many of the most dazzling scenes ever seen in pictures.

WAX FROM PALM TREE

WORTH $1,000 A TON

Wax, apart from its familiar association with candles, has also other uses. It is used in the making of paper, toilet, leather, varnish, furniture polish, and in modelling. The most common type is paraffin wax and scale obtained in the refining of mineral oils, large quantities of which are imported into Great Britain, the principal source of supply being the United States, according to the Industrial Department of the Canadian National Railways. Russia, Roumania, and some of the other eastern European countries are also sources of supply. Among vegetable waxes is one that runs as high in price as $1,000 a ton. It is known as Carnauba wax and is obtained from the palm tree. This wax has a high melting point and is the most efficient of polishing waxes but is used sparingly because too much would make the polish too hard and also, due to its high price. Other vegetable waxes are Esparto or reed wax, obtained from esparto grass and used sometimes as a substitute for Carnauba; candellilla wax, obtained from the candleilla, a Mexican plant. "Beeswax" is the best known of the animal waxes. Then there is Chinese wax, which is also secreted by insects; wool wax from wool fibres; spermaceti from the sperm whale.

Rastus was bemoaning his wife's laziness to his friend. "She's so lazy," he said, "dat she done put popcorn in de pancakes so they'll flop over by themselves."

SPORTS
It's the in-between season so there really isn't much doing but comment may be appropriate.
And Belleville won what Acton Intermediate Hockey Team tried hard to get—the Intermediate O. H. A. championship.

For instance, if baseball is to really be good in Acton this year there's the meeting for organization that everyone should attend.

It's billed for next Tuesday at eight o'clock, at the Dominion Hotel. Go and have your say, anyway, and help the game along. Don't say you didn't know about it, either.

Again we say, Tuesday, April 6th, at 8:00—Baseball—Meeting.

What's the prospect? Well, far as we find out they're pretty fair for a real good team.

We've heard plenty of rumors and baseball can be good in Acton this year but now's the time to arrange things.

One group mentioned is Acton, Georgetown, Milton, Campbellville, Warden and Burlington, and it's said all these towns want such a grouping.

Then a couple of teams to the north would be willing to come in and Hillsbury has a real team this year.

A six or eight team group would sure make the summer interesting and none of them far away.

And don't forget about the meetin' on Tuesday, folks.

We've got another subject for this column this week. It's

BILL ECCLESHELL

Sports in Acton are going to miss Bill Eccleshall when he sails for the Old Country and we don't mean maybe. Bill's a stickler for condition and the success of the Hockey Club in Acton is in no small part due to his work.

We are going to write quite a little and we can't think of a better heading to put it under than this one—SPORTS. Bill always believed in giving the best in one and knew what condition meant. Why the first year Acton nearly won a hockey championship and ninety per cent, of it was because Bill had the boys in condition. He didn't mind if his work was all in the dressing room and before the season opened. He was there to give his help and he sure knew how to have condition.

Bill's told us a story once or twice of how he went into a boxing match out of condition and got the trimming of his life. Perhaps that had some real bearing on his ideas in training. We've got to admit they were right, anyway.

Then he gathered a group of his fellow-employees together at the Beardmore plant and trained them for tug-of-war. They won the championship at the Exhibition so many times that they retained the big silver trophy. Bill didn't train the boys in the park or make a show of it. They pulled away on big weights down in the tannery grounds after the day's work. We've seen them at work and there never was any crowd, but the Beardmore team, with Bill Eccleshall, brought home the silver and medals.

We could go right through the whole of Bill Eccleshall's residence in Acton, remembering here and there and everywhere in Sports his activity. Just ask Bill to help and he didn't ask for the limelight but he worked. Liniment, blankets, bandaging, it didn't matter what, Bill's hands were ready.

Aw shucks! we're not going to say much more. But Bill, if you don't like it in England, there's a host of folks will be glad to welcome you back to Acton. We've only hit on the high spots in this little write-up, but none of your help went unappreciated, we know.

Here's to your health, wealth and happiness, Bill Eccleshall, wherever you may go, and we know Acton folk join us in that toast.

MARKET FOR CANADIAN PULPWOOD IN GERMANY

Notwithstanding that Germany has extensive forest resources, a large proportion of the stands is not suitable for manufacture into good quality pulp, hence it has been found necessary to import supplies for the better varieties of paper manufactures. Domestic sources are utilized in the production of kraft and similar grades of paper. Germany's principal sources of supply for foreign pulpwood have been Russia, Czechoslovakia and Finland, along with Poland, Austria and Latvia. Owing to the strained relations with Russia, Germany is looking for other sources of supply and is turning attention toward Canada. There are indications that a fairly good market is opening up for Canadian pulpwood in Germany, according to the Industrial Department of the Canadian National Railways.

OPINIONS

"Without universality, the League of Nations can be only a snare. If the covenants are not observed as a whole, for all and by all, then there is no covenant."—Kamon de Valera.

UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY

BARGAINS IN COCKEREL CHICKS

THE demand for sexed day-old pullets, for early April delivery, is leaving us with a temporary surplus of cockerel chicks. We are pricing them for quick sale. This is your opportunity to get a flock of extra cockerels at dirt-cheap prices. Look at the list below:

Day-old Cockerels — 1c to 5c Each

Bray Standard grade Leghorns	$1.00 per 100
Bray Xtra-Profile Leghorns	3.00 per 100
Bray Standard grade New Hampshire	3.00 per 100
Bray Xtra-Profile New Hampshire	4.00 per 100
Bray Standard grade Barred Rocks	4.00 per 100
Bray Xtra-Profile Barred Rocks	5.00 per 100
Other Heavy Bred Cockerels	5.00 per 100

Bargains in Started Cockerels

We have a limited quantity of started cockerels of the heavy breeds. While they last, you can have them at the following bargain prices:

3-weeks-old heavy breed cockerels	$10.00 per 100
4-weeks-old heavy breed cockerels	13.00 per 100

Also a limited number of started pullets, various breeds, for prompt shipment. Most of them 3 to 4 weeks old. Write for pullet prices.

Profit in Extra Cockerels

The outlook for poultry meat prices is improving week by week. From January 1st to March 20th, Canada exported 488,976 dressed chickens to the British market—almost HALF A MILLION. That's 375 TIMES as many as we exported in the same period a year ago. By the time the Coronation ceremonies have come and gone, I don't think we're going to have much dressed poultry left in cold storage in this country. Our Summer and Fall prices for dressed chickens should be good.

Order Direct from This Advertisement

At the above prices, these chicks are moving fast. So don't delay if you want to get in on this unusual opportunity. Order direct from this advertisement.

Send a deposit of $1.00 on small orders, and pay the balance on the safe arrival of your chicks. On orders for more than $10.00 worth, send 10% of the amount as your first deposit.

Blind War Veteran Re-Admitted to U. S. A.

Blind Ray Teader, world war veteran, shown as he reached Boston, after he and his wife finally were allowed to return to their home from Montreal, through a Labor Department ruling. Mrs. Teader and her son, Arthur, who was alone at the Teader home while his parents were away, are shown looking on happily. Customs officials at Newport, Vt., had refused Teader re-entry to America since last September on grounds he entered the country illegally in 1911. The Teaders had visited friends in Montreal.
