Beginnings of Modern Dairying Recalled in Borden Anniversary

Dairying is one of the oldest industries known to civilized man. But the history of modern dairying, which is built on the cleanliness and purity of milk, is only eighty years old. It was in 1857 that Gail Borden, inventor of the process for condensing milk in a vacuum, established his first company. To operate his process successfully he found that pure milk was an absolute necessity and the rules that he formulated for safeguarding the quality of milk have become the basis of public health regulations in Canada and the United States.

The story of the progress made by the dairy industry in the past eighty years should be of interest to everyone. The Borden Associated Companies have been pioneers not only in improving the quality of the milk sold to the public, but also in developing new uses for milk and new products in which milk is used. They have thus helped to enlarge the farmers' market to the point that in the Province of Ontario dairy products now account for more than a quarter of the annual agricultural revenue.

In the series of Borden advertisements now appearing in "The Free Press," the story of the milk industry is told. In using newspaper advertising to tell their story to the public, the companies give another proof of the modern and progressive spirit that has ever been characteristic of their policies.

Cutting the Corners

By Foul Tip

The Milton nine will be in town on Saturday and a record crowd is expected.

Pans will remember what a good game these two teams put up in Milton two weeks ago.

Milton was presented with two gift runs in the initial frame, and they turned out to be enough to win.

So let's all go to the Park on Saturday afternoon and make some noise for the home team.

Acton didn't have a game last Saturday. Hillsburg not only defaulted the game but also dropped out of the League.

Milton representatives feel that Hillsburg "should never have been given a berth in the League."

We think that Milton is more to blame than any team in the League for what has happened, by giving Hillsburg that 28 to 0 drubbing. If you recollect, we said at the time that it was poor business.

Saturday's results: Brampton defeated Burlington, 6-2, Casey turning in a four-hit performance. With London twirling, Milton drubbed Georgetown, 12 to 1.

League standings—not including Wednesday's results:

	P.	W.	L.	P.C.
Milton	5	5	0	1.000
Georgetown	5	4	1	.800
Acton	5	3	2	.600
Brampton	5	2	3	.400
Burlington	5	1	4	.200

Last Saturday's game goes to Acton by default.

June Weddings

WILSON-HYATT

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hyatt, Norval, was the scene of a wedding, when their daughter, Marjorie Kathleen, became the bride of Mr. John Spencer Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wilson. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. H. V. Wilson, and Miss Rita Fisher, cousin of the groom, played the wedding music. During the signing of the register, Miss Frances Chisholm, cousin of the groom, sang. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white tulle lace, net finger-tip veil arranged at the head with a coronet of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of briarcliff roses and lily-of-the-valley. Miss Marie Willis, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, in pink pussy-willow tulle, with high to match. She carried yellow roses and blue cornflowers. Misses Ethel and Doris Hyatt, sisters of the bride, dressed alike, in frocks of pink organdy, were ribbon bearers, forming an aisle through which the wedding party passed. Mr. Hyatt, McClure was best man. Mrs. Hyatt, mother of the bride, gown in flowered blue chiffon with corsage of pink roses, and Mrs. Wilson, the groom's mother, chose black chiffon with corsage of Tullman roses, and received the guests. Later Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left by motor for Quebec and the New England States, the bride travelling in a printed chiffon dress with brown tweed coat and dark brown accessories. They will reside on the groom's farm, near Norval.

Wallace-MacDonald

A pretty lawn wedding took place quietly Saturday, June 5th, at three o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Paisley, Ontario, under an arch of evergreens and lilacs, when Grace, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. MacDonald, was united in marriage to Thomas Benjamin Wallace, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Benjamin Wallace, of Acton, Ontario. The Rev. K. C. MacLennan, of Toronto, officiated, with Miss Charlotte Turner, of Guelph, as cousin of the groom, playing the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in pink silk-ent over tulle, with matching accessories, wearing pink sweetheart corsage and blue tulle-ent in her hair, and carried a bouquet of briarcliff roses and lily-of-the-valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret MacDonald, wearing powder blue chiffon, with matching accessories, and carrying a bouquet of Tullman roses and lily-of-the-valley. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. George Wallace, of Acton, Ontario.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to members of immediate families. The table was prettily decorated and centred with wedding cake under a large white bell.

The bridal couple left amid showers of confetti and best wishes for Northern Ontario, Toronto and Buffalo, the bride travelling in a white flannel coat and figured dress, with white accessories. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Wallace will reside at Cobourg.

Hunter-Flowers

St. Alban's Church, Acton, was the scene of a lovely June wedding yesterday afternoon, when Irene Lillian Flowers, daughter of Mrs. George Elliott and the late Thomas Flowers, of Gravenhurst, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Hunter, of Georgetown, son of Mr. Thos. and the late Mrs. Hunter, of Georgetown. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Mr. Brindley, in a setting of purple lilacs, snowballs and ferns.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her step-father, Mr. George Elliott, was prettily gowned in orchid satin and overdress of tulle to match, with veil and coronet of orange blossoms.

The bridegroom was in a tulle suit, with white hat and veil, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and fern, tied with pink tulle and accessories to match. The bridesmaids, Misses Rita Whaley and Lillian Black, nieces of the groom, wore gowns of tulle to match, and carried nosegays of mauve sweetpeas.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. McPadden, at which her mother and the groom's aunt, Mrs. Howden, of Guelph, received the guests. Mrs. Elliott wore grey flowered georgette, with corsage of mauve sweetpeas, and Mrs. Howden, grey flowered georgette, with corsage of purple sweetpeas.

Mr. Isaac Hunter, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Mr. Whaley and Mr. G. McPadden.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Ruth Gibson sang sweetly "Oh Promise Me" and Miss Perle McMillan played the wedding march.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter left on a motor trip for points north. On their return they will take up their residence on the groom's farm at Georgetown.

Heavenly Blessings

If one should give me a dish of sand, and tell me there were particles of iron in it I might look for them with my eyes, and search for them with my clumsy fingers, and be unable to detect them; but let me take a magnet and sweep through it, and how would it draw to itself the almost invisible particles by the mere power of attraction. The thankful heart, like my finger in the sand, discovers no merels; but let the thankful heart sweep through the day, and as the magnet finds the iron, so it will find, in every hour, some heavenly blessings, only the iron in God's sand is gold.—If. W. Beecher.

Obituary

MRS. JOSEPH LITTLE

Successing to a heart attack while shopping in Guelph Friday evening, Mrs. Joseph Little, widow of the late Joseph Little, Nasagaweya, died before medical aid could be summoned.

The late Mrs. Little was born in Nasagaweya, where she spent the early days of her life. Later she moved to Guelph, where she lived for seven years until the time of her marriage to the late Joseph Little when she returned to Nasagaweya. In religion deceased was a member of Sodom Presbyterian Church, Nasagaweya, and was active in church affairs for many years.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. James Copeland, Nasagaweya; Mrs. E. Hill, out West; and three brothers, William McLaughlin, Guelph; John, Saskatchewan; and Walter, in Michigan.

The funeral was held on Monday afternoon, from the new funeral home of Johnstone & Rumley. Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Guelph.

"TRY COURTESY" CAMPAIGN GEARED TO HIGHER SPEEDS

Toronto, May 25th.—Sounding a strong warning that the heavy traffic increase on Ontario highways expected this summer will inevitably result in more traffic accidents and deaths unless every motor vehicle operator exercises constant care in driving, Hon. T. D. McQuesten, Ontario Highways Minister, has announced that this week his department is launching, for a second year, a newspaper campaign urging every one of Ontario's 700,000 drivers to "Try Courtesy."

"The steady increase in motor traffic," Mr. McQuesten declared, "presents a vital challenge to every user of our streets and highways to aid in checking and reducing the horrible toll of lives which motor traffic costs us each year."

Modern motoring, he pointed out, is geared higher than ever before, and the influence of speedy travel is steadily increasing. "Every resource of science has been applied to make this faster pace a safe one. Shatter-proof glass, improved four-wheel brakes, wider and smoother highways, more effective day and night road markers, new designs and construction in tires, better lighting equipment on automobiles and streets—all these factors have made their contribution to safer motoring."

"But no scientific factor," Mr. McQuesten insisted, "no matter how efficient or fool-proof, can ever have the slightest chance of success unless the simplest and most fundamental principle of human relations is applied. This element can be expressed in many different ways. It can be called 'consideration for others,' or 'do as you would be done by.'"

"In our newspaper campaign this year, as last year, we are urging drivers to 'try courtesy.' The dictionary says courtesy is 'politeness of manners, combined with kindness,' and we believe the sincere application of this simple idea by every driver in Ontario can eliminate death and destruction from our streets and highways and make them the safe and useful servants of mankind they should be."

On two evening of last week friends of Miss Irene Flowers gathered at her home on Church Street and, with addresses and presentations, expressed to her and Mr. Clifford Hunter, their best wishes for happiness on their marriage this week.
