DIVIDEND PAYMENTS BY CANADIAN MINES

Dividends at the rate of $1,579,000 a week were paid by the mines of Canada during 1936, according to a statement by the Department of Mines and Resources. Total payments for the year, exclusive of payments made by oil refining companies, amounted to $82,073,000. Payments by the mines in 1935 amounted to $60,218,000, and in 1934 to $50,295,000. In 1936 the metal mines paid dividends amounting to $70,118,000, and the non-metallic mines, $2,955,000. Up to the end of 1936 the mines of Canada had paid dividends totalling $83,770,000, approximately 34 per cent, of which was contributed by the gold mines.

Payments by the gold mines in 1936 reached a total of $35,477,000 compared with $29,207,000 in 1935. In the latter year twenty-one gold properties were on the dividend paying list, whereas in 1936 the number had increased to thirty, the additions to the list being: the Beattie mine in Quebec; Central Patricia, Pickle Creek, Mackenzie Bay Lake, and Little Long Lac in Ontario; and Cariboo Gold Quartz, Island Mountain, Sheep Creek, and Ymir Yankee Girl in British Columbia. Dividends paid by these mines amounted to $2,216,000.

International Nickel Company was far in the lead in 1936 with payments amounting to $20,885,000, followed in order by Lake Shore with $10,000,000; Noranda with $6,719,000; Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company with $5,518,000; and Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines with $5,412,000.

Present indications are that dividend payments by Canadian mines in 1937 will greatly exceed those of 1936. The earnings of several of the larger base metal companies have been much higher so far this year than during 1936, mainly as a result of the increase in the price of lead, zinc, and copper and a large part of this additional revenue will be paid out in dividends.

AUTHOR UNKNOWN

Here is a little poem, author unknown, that a local business man submitted to the editor. It certainly appeals to us and has a point to it:

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
'I'll pay before I go to bed;
The debt I owe the printer:
Yes there are some we know full well
Who never such a tale can tell,
But they we fear, will go to—
Well, the place where there's no winter."

A COLD SPELL

Pat was telling Mike some of his experiences up north, and said he was once so cold that when he spoke the words froze and fell in lumps of ice on the floor.

Bridget was listening, and said: "Yes, and I had to thaw them out before I could tell what Pat was saying."

GLASS BLEAD APPEARS

Grass bread is the latest in Norway. It is made from grass meal, mixed with a little flour, and many who have tried it declare it is not at all bad as food.

The grass meal and fresh green hay are being produced in a new factory near Trondheim, said to be the only establishment of its kind in the world. Grass is cut when it is in the leaf stage and dried by electrically-heated air and pasteurizing temperature. This preserves the color and retains all the vitamins.

Grass meal is made by beating the hay with rotating hammers.

REV. AND MRS. STEPHENSON AND FAMILY HONORED

Last Thursday evening members and friends of Churchill United Church assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Kerr when a farewell gathering, in honor of Rev. and Mrs. G. I. Stephenson and family was held.

The following address, read by Mr. Arthur Swackhamer, bespoke the esteem in which the minister and his family were held.

Rev. and Mrs. Stephenson and Family

Dear Friends:

We, the congregations of Churchill and Limehouse, have met here to-night to spend a social time with you, prior to your removal from our midst.

During the past four years you have been among us — you, Mr. Stephenson, have always been ready to help, serve and minister to us — you, Mrs. Stephenson, have always been a loyal and true help-mate, always putting the Master's work foremost — you, Norma and Kenneth, through your willingness have been most inspiring and helpful. Isabel and Muriel, you have also proved yourselves to be invaluable in the work of the Sunday School and the church. We shall indeed greatly miss you in our church, our homes and our community. It is our most sincere and heart-felt wish that God will greatly bless you all in your new field of labor for the Master.

As a small token of our esteem, we ask you to accept this gift and may it bring back pleasant memories of Churchill and Limehouse.

Signed on behalf of Churchill and Limehouse congregations:

SYDNEY KIRKPATRICK,
FRED SMITH,
SMITH GRYPIN,
C. MEREDITH,
ARTHUR SWACKHAMER.

And, bearing out these good wishes a studio couch was presented by Messrs. Chas. Meredith, Smith Griffin and Fred Smith, on behalf of the congregations. Miss Isabel Stephenson was also remembered by the choir for her faithfulness and service in assisting them and the congregation. She was the recipient of a music case, presented on their behalf by Miss Russell. The following address, read by Mrs. Robt. Kerr, gave expression to the appreciation of the choir:

Dear Isabel:

We, the members of Churchill Choir, have gathered here to-night to spend another pleasant evening with you before you go to another field of service. You have been our efficient pianist and you have freely given of your time and musical talents.

As we reflect upon your going, we think of the special service that has been yours in helping to make attractive the public worship of God. The world needs music; it appeals to all; soothes, cheers, inspires, and charms carrying the mind to levels above the commonplace. You have performed that happy mission here.

We realize that your association with us as a worker in Churchill Choir will soon be at an end. Our fellowship has been enjoyable, cordial and harmonious. We regret very much that you are leaving us. Your place will be hard to fill, but our loss will be another's gain.

In recognition of your faithful and capable work as pianist we ask you to accept this music case as a mark of esteem and remembrance.

Signed on behalf of Churchill Choir:

JOHN H. SMITH,
ROBERT KERR,
JESSIE GRIPPIN,
EDNA RUSSELL.

Mr. Stephenson and other members of the family replied, expressing their appreciation of these mementos. Members of the congregation also expressed the kindly remembrances they would always cherish of the labor of Mr. Stephenson and family in their midst. A social time with a delightful lunch was the concluding part of this evening spent ere the pastor and his family moved to a new field. The evening was arranged by the Young People's Society of the church.

ALMOST A HUNT

Moses had been invited to the wedding of Sam's daughter, and as they parted Sam said:

"And when you come, just kick on the door, we'll hear you."

"Kick on the door? Why can't I knock with my hands?"

"Well," came the reply "how can you use your hands with your arms full of presents?"

ENERGY

The longer I live, the more I am certain that the great difference between men, between the feeble and the powerful, the great and the insignificant, is energy—irrevocable determination. A purpose once fixed, then death or victory. That quality which will do anything that can be done in the world.—Buxton.

WHICH FIRST

Pat was engaged putting a water main into the workhouse. Saturday came, and the boss saw Pat dolefully examining his pay packet.

"Mistake in your wages?" he asked.

"Oh, no," replied Pat, "but I was just wondering whether me or the water would be in the workhouse first."

BUSINESS GOOD

"Yassah," said old Link, "business very good. Done bought a pig for ten dollars, traded pig for a barrer, barrer o' calf, calf for ten dollars."

"But yo' don't make nothing, Link!"

"Sho' 'raff, but look at de business Ah been doin'."

June Weddings

BARNES—WALSH

Syringa and pink and white peonies in an arch decorated with wedding bells made an attractive background in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Hartley, Milton, for the marriage of their granddaughter, Lillian Evelyn Walsh, daughter of Mrs. N. C. Wrigglesworth and the late Mr. Fred Walsh, to Mr. Horace M. Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Barnes, Georgetown. Rev. A. B. Irwin, of Milton United Church, officiated, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Robert Anderson aunt of the bride. During the signing of the register, Mrs. J. Guy Wilson, aunt of the groom, sang.

The bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, wore a gown of silk embroidered net over white satin the veil of point d'esprit net was in coronet style, with orange blossoms at each side. She carried an arm bouquet of sweetheart roses. Miss Margaret Lamb, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, in powder blue net over satin, with bandeau of orange blossoms across the back of her hair. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Verne Barnes, brother of the groom, was best man.

Mrs. Hartley, grandmother of the bride, received the guests in a grey crepe gown with Chantilly lace trimmings; Mrs. N. C. Wrigglesworth, mother of the bride, was in deep blue crepe with white accessories, and Mrs. Barnes the groom's mother, wore Georgetown blue lace over gold satin. Each wore a corsage of roses. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes left later by motor car for an extended trip west, the bride travelling in a printed brown triple sheer frock, with brown accessories and red fox fur. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes will live at Ashgrove.

VANNATTER—WHEELER

Glen Williams United Church was the scene of a popular wedding Saturday, when Miss Mary Angela, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wheeler, and Phares L. Vannatter, son of Mr. Vannatter, and the late A. R. Vannatter, Georgetown, were married by Rev. G. I. Stephenson.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white silk gown, cut on princess lines bound with narrow stripes of white moire over white tulle and satin, and white silk jacket with puffed sleeves drawn to a point at the wrist. Her veil was of tulle and lace caught with orange blossoms, over a headpiece of seed pearls, and she carried a nosegay of white roses.

Her attendants were Miss Mary Bludd and Miss Edna Davidson, of Glen Williams. Miss Bludd in pale yellow, and Miss Davidson in pale pink. They wore long, sweeping gowns of triple sheer georgette, with chaplets of flowers matching their gowns, and bouquets of lily-of-the-valley and rose-buds.

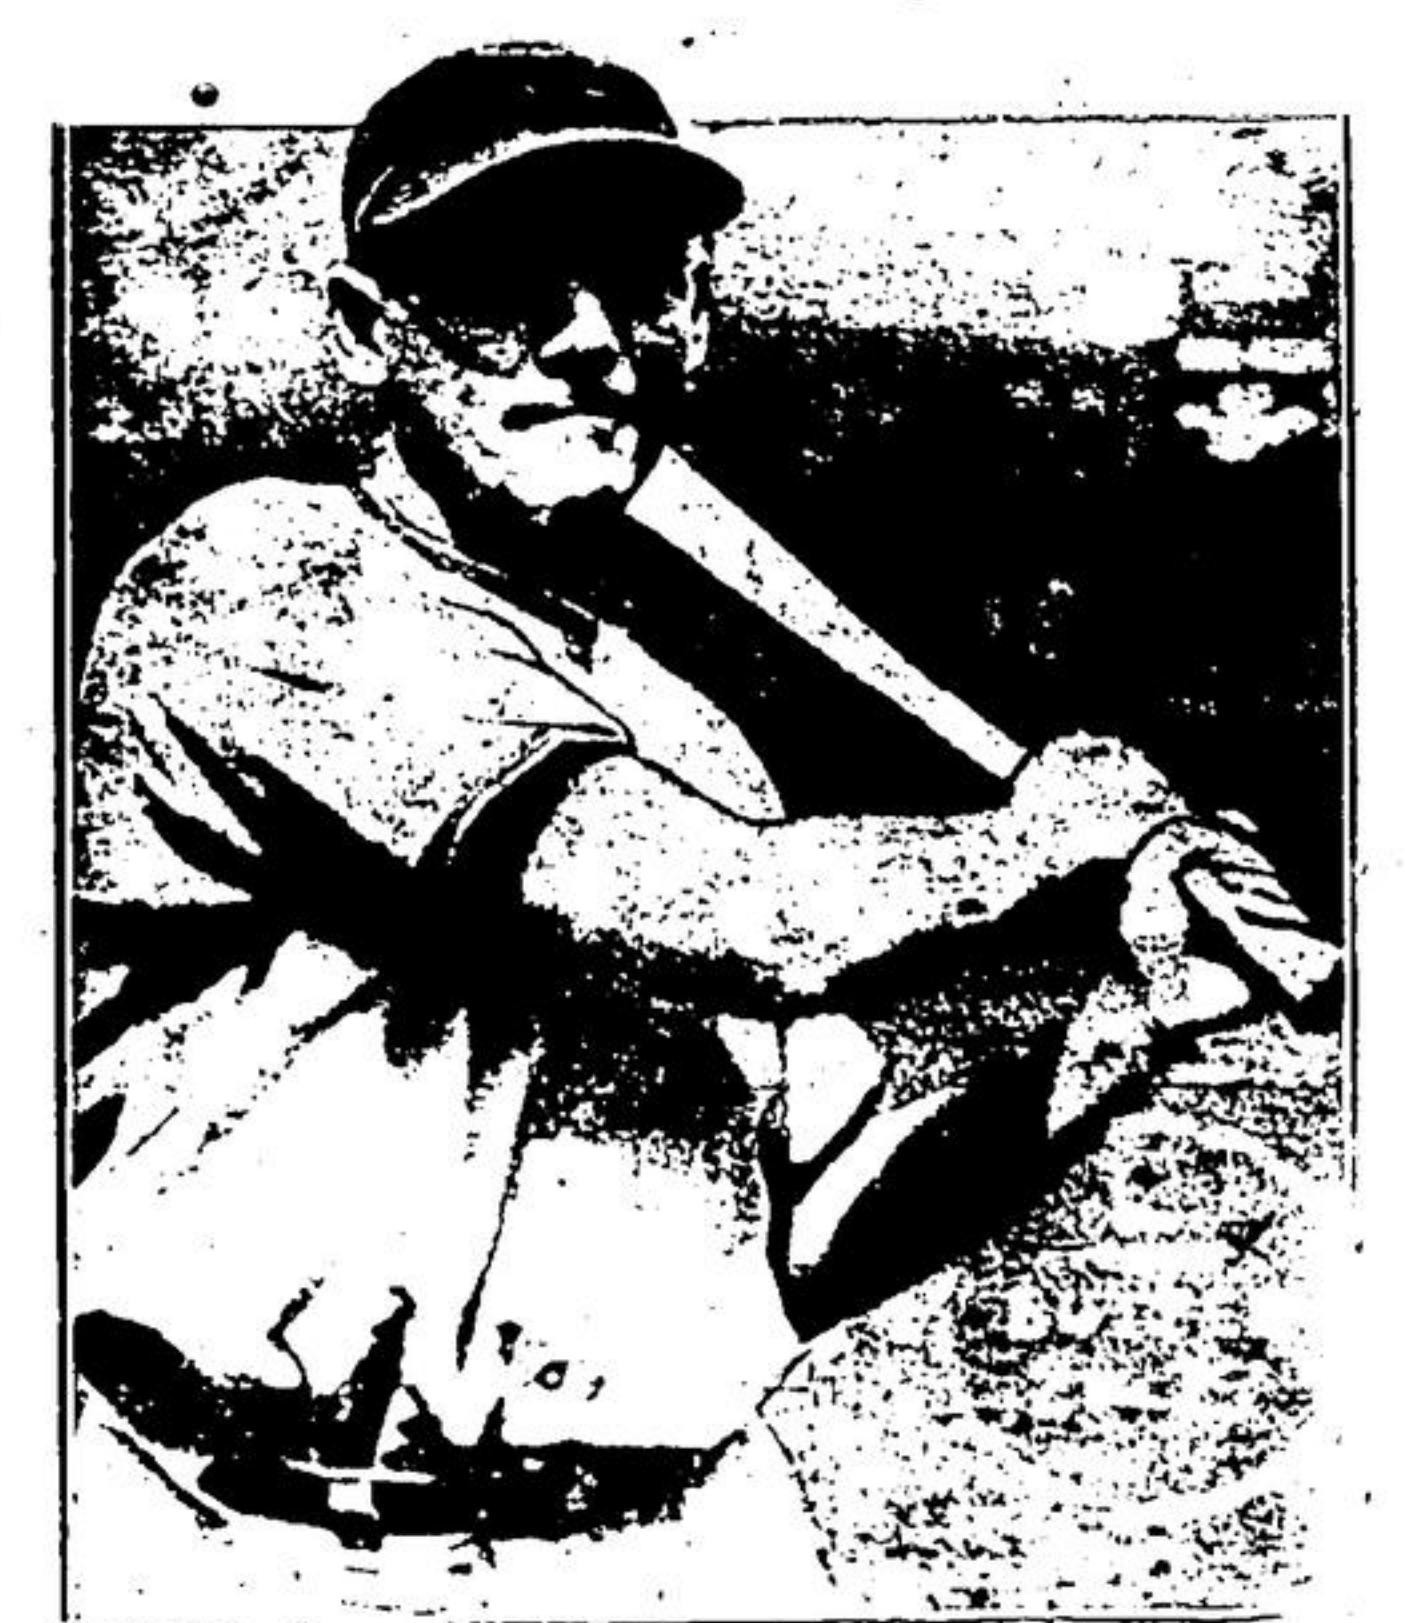

James Evans, Georgetown, was best man, and ushers were Harold Wheeler and Ernest Forges, of Glen Williams. Mrs. Jack Addy presided at the organ, and, during the signing of the register, Miss Betty Speight, Georgetown sang "O Promise Me."

The wedding reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Wheeler receiving in flowers a orchid chiton, with wide hat of white silk crepe and tiny corsage of lily-of-the-valley and rosebuds, assisted by Mrs. Vannatter, who wore brown georgette, with white felt hat and lily-of-the-valley and rosebud corsage. On a motor honeymoon trip the bride travelled in white arden crepe, with full-sleeved red jacket and red accessories, and white silk crepe hat with nose veil. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Vannatter will make their home at Georgetown.

A SCOTSMAN'S GREETING

I wish you all the luck there in,
And all your heart's desire,
And all the money in the world,
That I do not require.

Home Run Sensation in Major Ball Circuit

Vallant is the word for Alex Kampouris, second baseman of the Cincinnati Reds, and only Greek player in the Major League, who is the home run sensation of the senior circuit. Alex's six round-trippers, all made in five days, have made him an outstanding threat for the home run honors in the majors. Two of them were made off Freddie Fitzsimmons, of the Giants, one off Cliff Melton, also of the Giants. The other three were made in that free-for-all with the Phillies, when the Reds won 21-10.

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

Wright A. Patterson, President of the Western Newspaper Union, touches on a very vital subject when he says: "The circulation of large city newspapers in rural communities develops among the people of these communities the city buying habit. The effective advertising of the big stores attracts business away from the home town, and in time the home town as a market place has passed out of the picture. When it does, the local newspaper is buried in the same grave."

Considered from this standpoint, the regional, or local paper is even more important to the town or city in which it is published than it is to the owner or publisher. There is no getting around the fact that the trade of a town or city follows the circulation of the local newspaper, just as civilization follows the flag.

Your town or city is not going to advance very far unless your local newspaper blazes the way. And your local newspaper is not going to be the sort of newspaper necessary to gain and maintain a complete coverage in the logical trade radius of your town or city unless it has the wholehearted support of your merchants and business men.

Aggressive business men in many of the small cities of the country are coming to understand and appreciate the importance of the home newspaper, and the day is not far distant when local Chambers of Commerce will make one of their main objectives an annual drive for increased newspaper circulation in the logical trade radius of their respective communities.
