

high-bred reserve that was very apparent to a chance acquaintance, but disappeared when she met those she counted her friends.

Let us look into the Churchill parlor, one Saturday evening, for there we shall see some whose closer acquaintance we shall make before long.

Headquarters for holiday goods at Miss Erskine's.

Prof. Gray's pond is alive with youthful skaters every day after school hours. We were all kids once and enjoyed this rarest of sports. It beats a bike all out—with our restrictive ordinance.

M. Moses & Son have added a "Basement Department", where they keep their crockery, etc. A broad stairway leads down to it from the main store.

Highland Park is not exactly a "college town" like Lake Forest, though it has three first class private schools for all sexes and ages, but when it comes to a local newspaper it can knock the spots all out of its distinguished northern suburb.

The subject of next Sunday's sermon at the Presbyterian church will be the Keystone of the Arch of Character. Gal. 5:22,23. Miss Charlotte Yoe, Soloist.

Don't forgot to look over the Holiday goods at Dale Sweetland's before you make your purchases.

There is a man in our city who seems to be making up his mind to take unto himself a wife. But the trouble is some good folks appear to think that he does not know whom to select while he shows a strong disposition "gang his own gait." These good and wholly disinterested people of course, have the suitable one all picked out while his evident choice is someone else. "How do you know the plaintiff is guilty of perjury?" said the judge to the Hibernian defendant. "Because, yer honor, he is a swearin' agin me." In the language of Virgil, Homer or some other ancient author, "Hinc illae lachrymae."

Dale Sweetland has an elegant line of Christmas gifts at very reasonable prices.

Holiday gifts at Sweetland's. The finest line of perfumes in the city. An elegant line of cut glass bottles.

Rev. E. K. Yeakel, presiding elder of Naperville district, will conduct the quarterly meeting service at the First United Evangelical Church this Sunday. The revival services are increasing in interest. Thus far seven converts are reported and the meetings will likely continue next week. The membership of the new church is being greatly revived.

The Highland Park Fair is now reopened and ready to do business. Quite a crowd gathered there on Thursday afternoon.

At the next regular meeting of the Highland Park council, Royal Arcanum, Dec. 4, there will be an open meeting after 9 p. m. The audience will be entertained by A. C. H. Craft with his phonograph.
